KRUG SPURNS DEBATE WITH MINERS' BOSS

Plans Early Report
On Safety Conditions;
Lewis Calls Holiday

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Krug today promised a speedy report to Congress on coal mine safety and declared that meanwhile he will engage in no "controversy" over the (Centralia) catastrophe or its causes.

Without direct mention of John L. Lewis call for a six-day shutdown of the nation's soft coal mines this week in mourning for the 111 victims of the Centralia, Ill., explosion, Krug said that "the facts will be known only upon the completion of the several investigations" under way.

Lewis called for Krug's ouster. The United Mine Workers chief accused Krug of "criminal negligence" as Federal coal mines administrator on the ground that he failed to enforce safety standards.

Krug today issued this statement: "The tragic explosion at Centralia mine No. 5 has claimed 111 victims, leaving their bereaved families without their support.

"My sympathy for them is too profound to permit me to debate or to gloss over their misery by engaging in any press controversy over the catastrophe or its causes.

"The facts will be known only upon the completion of the several investigations of the disaster now under way by the special Senate committee, by the special board appointed by the governor of Illinois, and by the bureau of mines of the Department of the Interior.

"As soon as possible I shall transmit to Chairman Guy Gordon of the Senate committee a report on the over-all safety conditions in American soft coal mines, and so far as they are now known, in the Centralia mine."

Senator Cordon (R-Ore) is chairman of a Senate public lands subcommittee appointed to investigate mine safety.

As reports from the coal fields indicated the miners are going to comply with Lewis' call for a shutdown starting Tuesday, officials began a careful scrutiny of the situation.

Some Government officials who declined to be quoted by name said no legal action to halt the work stoppage is expected. But both Attorney General Clark and John F. Sonnett, assistant attorney general who handled the Lewis case in court, declined to commit themselves as to whether Lewis will be in the clear on his action until they have studied it further.

Sonnett told a reporter he has formed no opinion yet.

The Supreme court, upholding an injunction against Lewis and the union, directed that a contract termination notice, equivalent of a (Continued on Page Nine)

Fire Breaks Out Anew In Junk Yard Debris

Grass fires and a blaze in debris at the Henry Pollock junk yard, Clawsco, caused runs yesterday for the three Pottstown fire companies. There was no property damage.

In the morning, the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company fought a blaze in debris at the Pollock premises for three hours and there was another call in the afternoon, when the firemen spent another hour and a half. The blaze was fanned by a westerly wind.

At 2:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Good Will Fire company and the Empire Hook and Ladder company answered a call to the vicinity of High street and Moser road, where a grass fire approached a gasoline station.

At 3 p. m., the Good Wills were summoned to the vicinity of the gas plant of the Philadelphia Gas and Electric company, near Race and York streets. A grass fire caused the run.

Blaze Causes Damage To Washington Grille

Flames which firemen said started from defective wiring early this morning caused an estimated $25 damage to the Washington Grille, 16 North Washington street.

Apparatus of the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company rushed to the scene at 12:15 a. m. on a call from a nearby resident. Fire had started in a partition on the north side of the restaurant and spread to wall shelves before it was extinguished by firemen using a booster pump. The grille had been closed all day yesterday, it was reported.

Haifa Waterfront Is Bombed; British Transfer 1600 Jews

JERUSALEM, Monday, March 31 (P)—Explosions and flames swept the Haifa waterfront today as British troops transferred to Cyprus-bound transports the first of nearly 1600 uncensored Jewish immigrants rescued a few hours earlier from a distressed refugee ship.

Fires following the explosions raged in the port area about two miles from the docks where the immigrants were being put aboard the transports by British troops carrying pick handles.

A quarter-mile area was burning in the neighborhood of installations of the Consolidated refineries and Shell Oil company.

Apparently flames were aging along the Shell company feeder lines from the Consolidated refinery.

The visa-less immigrants' close brush with death came yesterday 30 miles off the Palestine coast when the 700-ton schooner seeking to bring them to Palestine developed a dangerous list and began taking water.

The schooner, named Moledeh (Hebrew for "Fatherland") and formerly called the San Felipe, sent out a distress message. British naval vessels, which had been shadowing the Moledeh through the eastern Mediterranean, raced to the scene and removed 750 of the passengers crammed on the schooner's decks.

This action was believed to have averted a major disaster.

Jews in Haifa were aware that the Moledeh was in trouble. When the distress message was intercepted by radio receivers there, 60,000 Jewish residents blacked out their section of the port city as a gesture of sympathy. British troops immediately took up defense positions awaiting the arrival of the refugees.

The explosion occurred after a British destroyer brought 400 of the 750 immigrants removed from the Moledeh. The rest of the refugees were following on another destroyer and on the Moledeh herself. The (Continued on Page Ten)

40 Die, 137 Wounded As Moslems, Hindus Riot in Bombay Area

BOMBAY, Monday, March 31 (AP)—Forty persons were killed and 137 were wounded yesterday in communal riots that broke out in four different sections of Bombay, the provincial director of information announced today.

Similar riots occurred in greater Calcutta and Cawnpore, causing at least nine deaths and more than 50 other casualties.

The Bombay disorders between Hindus and Moslems were brought under control only after police fired into crowds in various sections of the city on 19 occasions. A curfew was put into effect to clear the streets of the rioters.

A. A. Ciffin, Bombay chief of police, said the local military organization had been ordered to stand by for duty later today when the curfew is lifted.

Newsmen touring Bombay streets saw Ciffin's police rifle and Lathi (long staff) squads move into areas where screaming rioters abandoned their activities and fled, leaving only the litter of the disorders under the light of overhead gas lights.

Rumors as to the cause of the fighting, all of them unconfirmed, swept the city immediately. The report receiving the most circulation was that a funeral procession of one community had attacked a house of worship of another, but the stories (Continued on Page Nine)

Two Men Injured As Auto Hits Tree

Two men were injured early yesterday morning when their car left the road four miles west of Boyertown on Route 526 and hit a tree, wrecking the car.

Jack Bruce, 22, of Norristown RD 1, the driver, and Jack Rucinski, 36, of Eagleville, an occupant of the auto, were taken to Pottstown hospital by Grant A. Weidner, of Boyertown, a passing motorist, and admitted after treatment.

They told State police of the West Reading barracks, who investigated, that they were on their way back to Norristown.

Rucinski, who apparently went partially through the windshield when the vehicle hit the tree, suffered a deep laceration of the scalp and cuts on the face, hands and right leg.

Bruce was treated for superficial cuts and bruises of the face, hands and legs and was discharged later in the day.

The accident occurred shortly after 3 a. m.

MINERS PENNED NOTES TO KIN

Rescue Squads Find Messages Near Bodies Of Explosion Victims

CENTRALIA, Ill., March 30 (P)—Driscoll A. Scanlan, State mine inspector said today that at least 14 of the 111 miners who died as a result of an explosion in the Centralia coal company's No. 5 mine the past Tuesday lived long enough to write notes to their families.

Notes were found by rescue crews Scanlan said, which indicated some of the trapped miners lived until 7 p. m. Tuesday in some sections of the mine. The time of the blast has been established at 4:27 p. m. (Pottstown time) Tuesday.

One note, Scanlan related, was from a man to his wife, asking that their children be sure to go to church.

Another note was signed "Ray Buchne," with his nickname "Chub" scrawled on the top. Beneath it was an illegible line and then the words: "God bless you all."

Rescue workers said the notes were discovered on the last group of dead men they found. The 14 bodies were lying flat as if the men had been gasping for the last breath of good air before deadly gases took their lives.

One man had scooped a small hole in the damp floor of the tunnel, burrowed his face into it and cupped his helmet over his head. The bodies were in a large room near the end of a system of tunnels, between three and four miles west of the main shaft.

Rescuers said 13 of the notes were written on paper and one was chalked on a small slab of slate. The slate note was signed "Ned Jackson" and read "Dr. T. Help Elma and Dickie."

Earlier indications had been that the blast and resulting gas had killed the miners quickly. All bodies have been removed from the mine, and all identified except eight, and they are expected (Continued on Page Nine)

Low Water Pressure at Hydrants Termed 'Serious' by Lindauer

Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer last night declared that whole sections of Pottstown could be destroyed or partially ruined by fire because of inadequate water pressure in hydrants.

Laying the blame on undersized and corroded water mains as well as obsolete fire plugs, Lindauer said great sections of water pipeline in outlying districts of town should be ripped out and replaced by new, larger conduits.

Concerning a tour of inspection of fire hydrants Friday by Councilmen Ralph L. Weis and Harry E. Yergey which revealed insufficient pressure in dozens of the outlets, Lindauer said:

"I've known about this for ten or 12 years and have constantly urged action on the situation."

Fire in these areas of low hydrant pressure could spread rapidly, he stated, if the only available water came either from pumper booster tanks or from the time-wasting procedure of lining it in from distant fire plugs with good pressure.

"It is high time action of some sort was taken to relieve a condition as dangerous as this one," he stated.

Lindauer blamed the Pottstown Water company for the condition because "they won't spend the money to get bigger mains."

RIVALS AT ODDS IN PHONE PARLEY

Union Leader Certain Of Walkout April 7; AT and T Remains Silent

NEW YORK, March 30 (P)—Telephone union and industry representatives met jointly with a Federal conciliator tonight in negotiations directed toward preventing a telephone strike but Union President John J. Moran said afterward there was "a stalemate on both sides." He added, "it looks very much as though we'd walk out at 6 a. m., April 7, as planned."

The session, the first joint meeting in current talks between the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the American union of Telephone Workers, lasted for an hour and a half.

It was recessed "subject to further call by the U. S. Conciliation service," said William Margolis, assistant regional director of the service.

Moran said:

"It looks very much as though we'd walk out at 6 a. m. April 7, as planned. However, we'll continue discussion at any time the conciliators call us. But I don't feel too encouraged. There's a stalemate on both sides. Of 91 contract items, the union wants only about a dozen changed. None have been agreed on so far."

Company representatives declined comment beyond giving assurances they would respond to a call by the USCS.

There was no indication when the conciliation service would re-

Editor Says Chinese Troops Slew 5000 Formosans to Halt Rioting

SHANGHAI, March 30 (AP)—John W. Powell declared today in an article in his magazine, "China Weekly Review" that Chinese troops sent to Formosa to quell riots which started there Feb. 28 had perpetrated "some of the most unimaginable atrocities."

Powell, son of the late famed editor J. B. Powell, wrote that a conservative estimate placed the number of Formosans killed at 5000, with thousands more imprisoned. He has newly returned from a visit to Formosa.

(So far as is known Powell is the only American correspondent who has succeeded in going to and returning from the big island province off China's east coast since rioting began.)

(No immediate comment was forthcoming from Chinese government sources, but the government previously has depreciated the extent of the scantily-reported Formosan disorders.)

(On March 14 Peng Hsueh-pe, Chinese minister of information, told foreign news men in Nanking that the Formosan "incident will soon be closed." He declined to assist reporters in going there, saying that the government was "too busy" to look after them.)

(On March 10 a Formosan delegation arrived in Nanking and charged that authorities up to that time had killed 3000 to 4000 Formosans. Pro-government Chinese press reports on the first day had placed the death toll at 500.)

Iron Lung Given To Borough in Official Ceremony

Simple but impressive ceremonies accompanied the presentation at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon of a $1300 portable iron lung to the Borough of Pottstown by the Die Casters' club, of 254 High street.

The Millikin lung, which will be installed as equipment of a Good Will ambulance and which can be used without any cost in any emergency arising in this section, was presented at the firehouse of the Good Will Fire company, Hanover and Queen streets.

The presentation was made by President Nelson Chaplin of the club and the lung was accepted on behalf of the borough by Burgess William A. Griffith.

A demonstration of the apparatus was made by Harry G. Mann, of Johnstown, with George Takach, one of the fire company members, acting as the "patient."

Members of the club's board of directors followed: Chaplin, Robert Van Horn, John Kramer, John Roth, Michael Koren, Milton Say-

PALM SUNDAY THROGS FILL CHURCHES HERE

Crowds Large, But Day's Chilly Weather Keeps Spring Finery at Home

Palm Sunday, one of the most significant days of the Christian calendar and the beginning of Holy Week, was marked in a traditional manner yesterday by crowds of Pottstonians filling and overflowing their churches, remembering once again Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem over palm-strewn roads.

The day was observed in churches filled with palms, with organ music and singing of "Hosannas" and "The Palms," with the ancient rites of blessing and distribution of the palms in Catholic and Episcopal churches, and baptisms, confirmations, and reception of new members into Protestant congregations.

Although the weather was clear, contradicting the weatherman's earlier predictions, a combination of chill and wind kept travel at normal levels, and the church-minded thousands were not disposed to much pre-Easter display of new coats and hats.

Several pastors reported that their congregations for the day were greater than ever before on Palm Sunday. Typical of the 100 percent attendance were Churchgoers totaling 1889 in Emmanuel Lutheran church, 300 at St. Peter's Catholic church, 424 in St. John's (Continued on Page Nine)

Milk Price Drop Asked by Dealers

Pottstown - Reading area milk dealers will ask for a one cent per quart drop in the price of milk on Thursday when the Milk Control commission for the area holds a hearing in Reading.

It has been announced that prices in the Philadelphia area will go down a cent a quart on April 4. Earl Levensgood, Pottstown milk dealer, said that the results of the hearing, which will be attended by dealers and farmers in the Reading area, will go to the attorney general for ratification and will then be posted for six days before taking effect.

Trade demand is responsible for the reduction, Levensgood said.

COUNCIL TRUCE IN GERMAN PACT SEEN UNLIKELY

Soviet Economic State
Might Cause Concession
By Minister Molotov

MOSCOW, March 30 (P)—Barring concessions by the Soviet Union, a majority of most of the visiting delegations saw little prospect today of any major settlement of the German problem at the Moscow foreign ministers' conference.

The foreign ministers will come to grips with the heart of the German issues tomorrow. Any settlement appeared to depend entirely on one unannounced factor.

This factor is whether Russia's economic condition is such that economic unity of Germany is essential to the Soviets.

While some Western delegations feel that Russia's situation will force last-minute concessions, there has been nothing to bear this out in the attitude and position of Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Molotov has announced that Russia will consider no settlement on Germany without assurance of Russia's claims for $10,000,000,000 in reparations over 20 years and reparations from current production.

The United States, despite its stand against reparations from production thus far, is understood to be willing to compromise on this point if Russia accepts the principle that Germany must pay her own way before reparations start. This is not believed acceptable to the U.S.S.R., and the United States is prepared to go no further on compromise.

Whether the British will even go this far is doubtful. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is under direct orders from his government against arrangements which would require additional outlay for expenses.

First commercial sugar cane production in the New World was in San Domingo where Negro slaves were imported to cultivate the fields.

Former undersecretary of state Sumner Welles, above, last night said the United States plans for trusteeship of the Pacific islands is "helping create a precedent which may have disastrous consequences." He declared there are "dangers inherent in this plan" because it is "an undertaking administered in the exclusive interest of one country which is going to decide what to do within that area and how to do it."

Draft Act Makes Farewell Tonight; Other Controls Go

WASHINGTON, March 30 (P)—Most of the remaining wartime controls go the window at midnight tomorrow.

The Draft act dies. The Solid Fuels administration shuts up shop. Emergency controls over trucking and shipping lines end. All but a small segment of the Second War Powers act expires.

Only on sugar and a handful of scarce commodities will the Government still have power to set priorities or regulate the use.

Rent ceilings, too, remain in effect. The law which authorizes them expires June 30 but Congress is expected to continue rent control in some form. Committees in both the Senate and House are considering just what to do.

Awaiting presidential signature tomorrow is legislation under which 6443 local draft boards enter liquidation. One year is given to liquidate Selective Service affairs under a new office of Selective Service records. It will preserve draft files in State capitals.

Congress is scheduled to give final approval tomorrow to two measures which salvage sugar rationing and the allocation of a few other products. Fast footwork between Capitol Hill and the White House will be necessary to permit a presidential signature before the deadline. They provide:

1. Extension of sugar rationing and price control until Oct. 31, under the Agriculture department instead of OPA.
2. Extension until June 30 of allocation powers over tin, ammonium, railroad freight cars, manila and agave cordage and fibres, the drug streptomycin, tractors for export sale, and cinchona (quinine) bark.

British Aim for Showdown With Soviet on Arms Slash

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 30 (P)—Great Britain will seek a showdown with Russia on disarmament principles before plunging into a United Nations program to slash the world's arms, an authoritative source said today.

The issue was expected to come to a head Tuesday with completion of policy speeches in the 11-nation commission on conventional armaments. Britain's move would supplement her previous assertion that the world was not ready to disarm and wouldn't be until international security was established.

Despite Soviet Foreign Minister V. Molotov's call for speed when he tossed the original arms reduction proposal into the General Assembly the past Fall, the Soviet Union so far has declined to speak in the new commission.

Regardless of whether delegate Andrei A. Gromyko chooses to deliver a major speech, this source said the British were determined that all nations go on record over the principles of security and disarmament.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate and veteran of previous world disarmament conferences, wants these principles established first:

1. Arms reduction depends primarily on establishment of international confidence, the converse argument is misleading and dangerous.
2. Completion of an international military force by the U. N. would contribute greatly to this confidence.
3. Establishment of an effective system of international control and verification must precede adoption of any arms slashing system.

Previously Russia has argued against the theory that security is an essential condition of disarmament, citing such a stand as an attempt at delay. Cadogan moved to spike a possible renewal of the Russian argument when he declared that such a stand was taken by Mussolini and he hoped "no one will be inclined to repeat the fascist government's contention" here.

A special group has been at work in London for some time on a set of British proposals and Cadogan will present these once the issue of principles is cleared away.

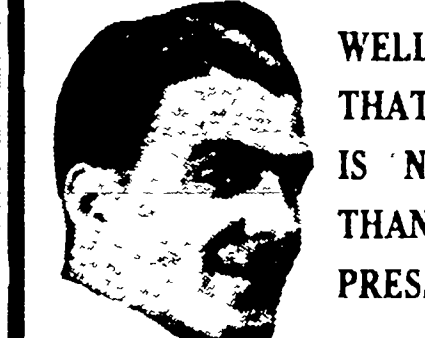

Ralph A. Bard, former undersecretary of Navy, will take over as American representative to the commission in about three weeks, following his week-end appointment by President Truman.

Rebel Plane Bombs Paraguay Capital; No Loss Reported

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 30 (P)—A rebel plane dropped mortar bombs last night and early today on Asuncion and Vinacue, nine miles east of the Paraguayan capital. Government officials said the mission was "unsuccessful" and no damage occurred.

A government communique issued tonight, describing further the repulse of a rebel attack at Parapua first announced yesterday, said the insurgents stormed government positions with a force of 1500 men, most of whom fled to the jungles after loyalist forces routed them.

More than 100 rebel prisoners and a quantity of arms, including five heavy machine guns, 20 light machine guns and three mortars, were seized, the communique said.

The government accused the revolutionists of bombing the "defenseless towns" of Campo Grande, Luque and Limpio, all within a few miles of Asuncion, "fortunately without consequence."

Loyalist fliers, the communique added, "with unrelenting and systematic bombardments contrived to and are contributing to the breaking of the morale of our adversaries."

Bridges Backs Delay In Lillenthal Issue, Awaits FBI Check

WASHINGTON, March 30 (P)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) today claimed growing support for a move to delay action on the Lillenthal nomination pending an FBI check, and said that at least two senators publicly in favor of confirmation will go along with it.

"We're much stronger on that question than we are on the issue of actual confirmation or rejection," he declared, without naming the two senators.

But Senator Hill (Ala), the Democratic whip, predicted in a separate interview that "the Senate will vote down that motion and then confirm the nominees." Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) also forecast rejection of the postponement, calling it "just an oblique method of trying to defeat the nominee."

The test for David E. Lillenthal and the other nominees for the atomic energy commission will come on a motion made Friday by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) "to send the nominations of Lillenthal and the other four commission members and that of Carroll L. Wilson as general manager back to the Senate atomic committee for investigations by the FBI."

To date, 49 senators have announced that they will support the nominations of Lillenthal and his colleagues, while 27 have taken a public stance against them.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) is to take the floor tomorrow to argue for acceptance of the appointments. Leaders are pushing for a vote by Thursday night, after which the Senate may take an Easter recess.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the foreign relations committee, hopes to have the bill for President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkey aid program ready for Senate consideration then.

U. S. Not Changing View Toward Franco

WASHINGTON, March 30 (P)—State department officials emphasized anew today that there is no change in sight in this Government's attitude of opposition to the Franco regime in Spain.

Advised of London reports that "Spanish political circles" are speculating on the possibility of a resumption of full diplomatic relations with Madrid, "these officials pointed to a statement issued by the department the past Wednesday, which said:

"There has been no change in this attitude (toward Spain) nor is any contemplated."

The statement was issued in connection with the assignment of Paul T. Culbertson, veteran of the Western European section of the State department, to replace Philip Bonasal as first secretary and charge d'affaires at Madrid. It called the shift "purely routine" and said it had "no political significance whatsoever."

COUNCIL TRUCE IN GERMAN PACT SEEN UNLIKELY

Soviet Economic State
Might Cause Concession
By Minister Molotov

MOSCOW, March 30 (P)—Barring concessions by the Soviet Union, a majority of most of the visiting delegations saw little prospect today of any major settlement of the German problem at the Moscow foreign ministers' conference.

The foreign ministers will come to grips with the heart of the German issues tomorrow. Any settlement appeared to depend entirely on one unannounced factor.

This factor is whether Russia's economic condition is such that economic unity of Germany is essential to the Soviets.

While some Western delegations feel that Russia's situation will force last-minute concessions, there has been nothing to bear this out in the attitude and position of Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Molotov has announced that Russia will consider no settlement on Germany without assurance of Russia's claims for $10,000,000,000 in reparations over 20 years and reparations from current production.

The United States, despite its stand against reparations from production thus far, is understood to be willing to compromise on this point if Russia accepts the principle that Germany must pay her own way before reparations start. This is not believed acceptable to the U.S.S.R. and the United States is prepared to go no further on compromise.

Whether the British will even go this far is doubtful. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is under direct orders from his government against arrangements which would require additional outlay for expenses.

First commercial sugar cane production in the New World was in San Domingo where Negro slaves were imported to cultivate the fields.

Sees Danger

Former undersecretary of state Sumner Welles, above, last night said the United States plans for trusteeship of the Pacific islands is "helping create a precedent which may have disastrous consequences." He declared there are "dangers inherent in this plan" because it is "an undertaking administered in the exclusive interest of one country which is going to decide what to do within that area and how to do it."

Draft Act Makes Farewell Tonight; Other Controls Go

WASHINGTON, March 30 (P)—Most of the remaining wartime controls go out the window at midnight tomorrow.

The Draft act dies. The Solid Fuels administration shuts up shop. Emergency controls over trucking and shipping lines end. All but a small segment of the Second War Powers act expires.

Only on sugar and a handful of scarce commodities will the Government still have power to set priorities or regulate the use.

Rent ceilings, too, remain in effect. The law which authorizes them expires June 30 but Congress is expected to continue rent control in some form. Committees in both the Senate and House are considering just what to do.

Awaiting presidential signature tomorrow is legislation under which 6443 local draft boards enter liquidation. One year is given to liquidate Selective Service affairs under a new office of Selective Service records. It will preserve draft files in State capitals.

Congress is scheduled to give final approval tomorrow to two measures which salvage sugar rationing and the allocation of a few other products. Fast footwork between Capitol Hill and the White House will be necessary to permit a presidential signature before the deadline. They provide:

1. Extension of sugar rationing and price control until Oct. 31, under the Agriculture department instead of OPA.
2. Extension until June 30 of allocation powers over tin, antimony, railroad freight cars, manila and agave cordage and fibres, the drug streptomycin, tractors for export sale, and cinchona (quinine) bark.

The United States has more than 22 telephones for every 100 inhabitants, compared with a little more than two per 100 for the world as a whole.

British Aim for Showdown With Soviet on Arms Slash

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 30 (P)—Great Britain will seek a showdown with Russia on disarmament principles before plunging into a United Nations program to slash the world's arms, an authoritative source said today.

The issue was expected to come to a head Tuesday with completion of policy speeches in the 11-nation commission on conventional armaments. Britain's move would supplement her previous assertion that the world was not ready to disarm and wouldn't be until international security was established.

Despite Soviet Foreign Minister V. Molotov's call for speed when he tossed the original arms reduction proposal into the General assembly the past Fall, the Soviet Union so far has declined to speak in the new commission.

Regardless of whether delegate Andrei A. Gromyko chooses to deliver a major speech, this source said the British were determined that all nations go on record over the principles of security and disarmament.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate and veteran of previous world disarmament conferences, wants these principles established first.

1. Arms reduction depends primarily on establishment of international confidence; the converse argument is misleading and dangerous.

2. Completion of an international military force by the U. N. would contribute greatly to this confidence.

3. Establishment of an effective system of international control and verification must precede adoption of any arms slashing system.

Previously Russia has argued against the theory that security is an essential condition of disarmament, citing such a stand as an attempt at delay. Cadogan moved to spike a possible renewal of the Russian argument when he declared that such a stand was taken by Mussolini and he hoped "no one will be inclined to repeat the fascist government's contention" here.

A special group has been at work in London for some time on a set of British proposals and Cadogan will present these once the issue of principles is cleared away.

Ralph A. Bard, former undersecretary of Navy, will take over as American representative to the commission in about three weeks, following his week-end appointment by President Truman.

Rebel Plane Bombs Paraguay Capital; No Loss Reported

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 30 (P)—A rebel plane dropped mortar bombs last night and early today on Asuncion and Vinascue, nine miles east of the Paraguayan capital. Government officials said the mission was "unsuccessful" and no damage occurred.

A government communique issued tonight, describing further the repulse of a rebel attack at Piripucu first announced yesterday, said the insurgents stormed government positions with a force of 1500 men, most of whom fled to the jungles after loyalist forces routed them.

More than 100 rebel prisoners and a quantity of arms, including five heavy machine guns, 20 light machine guns and three mortars, were seized, the communique said.

The government accused the revolutionists of bombing the "defenseless towns" of Campo Grande, Luque and Limpio, all within a ten-mile area of Asuncion, "fortunately without consequence."

Loyalist fliers, the communique added, "with imolacable and systematic bombardments contributed to and are contributing to the breaking of the morale of our adversaries."

Canadians to Elect Rose Successor Today

MONTREAL, March 30 (P)—Communist strength in Montreal, Canada's largest city, will be tested tomorrow in a parliamentary election in the Cartier district, to choose a successor to Fred Rose, former Communist member of the House of Commons now serving a six-year prison term for sending information illegally to Russia during the war.

Bridges Backs Delay In Lilienthal Issue, Awaits FBI Check

WASHINGTON, March 30 (P)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) today claimed growing support for a move to delay action on the Lilienthal nomination pending an FBI check and said that at least two senators publicly in favor of confirmation will go along with it.

"We're much stronger on that question than we are on the issue of actual confirmation or rejection," he declared, without naming the two senators.

But Senator Hill (Ala.), the Democratic whip, predicted in a separate interview that "the Senate will vote down that motion and then confirm the nominee." Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) also forecast rejection of the postponement, calling it "just an oblique method of trying to defeat the nominee."

The test for David E. Lilienthal and the other nominees for the atomic energy commission will come on a motion made Friday by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) "to send the nominations of Lilienthal and the other four commission members and that of Carroll L. Wilson as general manager back to the Senate atomic committee for investigations by the FBI."

To date, 49 senators have announced that they will support the nominations of Lilienthal and his colleagues, while 27 have taken a public stand against them.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) is to take the floor tomorrow to argue for acceptance of the appointments. Leaders are pushing for a vote by Thursday night, after which the Senate may take an Easter recess.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), chairman of the foreign relations committee, hopes to have the bill for President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkey aid program ready for Senate consideration then.

Russia to Fight Pressure on Reds
By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Truman attempt to check Russia will provoke fierce retaliation in the form of an even more pernicious foreign policy and "with column" activities within the boundaries of the three western powers arrayed against her, according to experienced diplomats and political students of Soviet strategy.
These experts, who have been consulted by the White House and the State Department in an effort to prepare for any emergency, insist that the Kremlin will pursue the same pattern it did on three other occasions when the so-called capitalistic nations resorted to financial and military pressure against Communism. Those critical and combative years were 1917, 1927 and 1929.
The Presidential consultants' reports and forecasts have been accepted as face value by the White House and Congressional leaders, for it is almost impossible to gainsay them.
Nevertheless, Mr. Truman and his advisers believe that the United States must challenge Russian imperialism while it stands on the threshold of the world and not wait until it has crashed all international doors.
OUTLAW: The Communist revolution of 1917 October might have taken an entirely different direction, according to these experts, if it had not been for the effort of World War I Allies to crush it.
It was Lenin's fear of the counter-revolution inspired by Lloyd George, Churchill, Clemenceau and even Woodrow Wilson which led the Marxists to impose an iron government at home and to try to promote rebellion among the "proletariat" in enemy countries. Another factor which precipitated the "Communist terror" inside Russia was the Trotskyites' persistent opposition to Lenin's policies.
The Allies, then as now, financed the anti-Communist movement headed by such "White Russians" as Denikin, Kolchak and Wrangel. The bitterness engendered by this effort to kill off the infant Soviet Republic forced the Kremlin to break off any kind of relations with the other powers and to become an outlaw in the family of nations.
Incidentally, Stalin led the armies which defeated Denikin in the south, and was a guiding spirit in framing the Russian-against-the-world policies which have influenced Moscow ever since those bloody days.

Holiest of Weeks
HOLY WEEK is with us. To many in Pottstown and vicinity this sacred week will be observed with great solemnity.
The week of prayer really started yesterday with Palm Sunday observance, now will go into deeper mourning as the time to commemorate Good Friday approaches. The week will end with the end of a 40-day fast period by many church-goers.
Easter Sunday, of course, is a day of rejoicing. It will be observed to commemorate the rising of Christ from the tomb. Next Sunday the church services will be joyous, the churches will be decorated brightly with flowers, the church-goers will wear their Easter finery.
It is a week of prayer and rejoicing. Pottstown will observe it with appropriate dignity.

More Homes, Less Houses
To the Editor: What we need in town is more homes, less houses, more adults, fewer childish people.
This is a "Dutch" district long noted for homes, places where the sun shines out of the windows not only in them, where women have realized this fact and acted as adults by making a career of being a wife and mother. That is a big enough task without trying to work in a mill or store on the side. Sure, you think you are doing fine, but what do your children miss?
What is the main reason for juvenile delinquency?
Children are restless wanting something and not knowing what. It's homes where they can find spiritual guidance, cheer, a place where they can bring their friends, someone to speak to frankly and not be ridiculed.
There are memory gems for both children and parents. Whether it's an apartment or house, it becomes a home with the sun shining out of the windows where people live while trying to bring humor, peace and harmony and spiritual well being.
Children want a home where they can feel wanted and have a sense of security and a desire instinctively to do what is just and good for all.
Too many young people today brag about their mothers' bridge scores, evening dresses, how late she came home, Pop's bowling score, how much he can drink, how many clubs he belongs to, how many laws he breaks.
We need to start in our own hearts and individual residences making homes not showplaces. Give the youngsters a break and receive double because we won't need extra police or a public hang-out for the crowd.
Make Pottstown your home town, and people will want to live here and bring their business here.

Dishonorable Practice
"THE LAWS are not designed to prevent dishonorable practice," says the preamble to "The Laws of Contract Bridge." In a footnote, giving examples of dishonorable practice, one item is "deliberately arranging any law." The preamble adds: "There are no penalties to cover either intentional violations of the laws or infringement of the proprieties. When no penalty is prescribed, the moral obligation of compliance is stronger." Ostracism is the ultimate remedy when intentional offenses are repeated.

In Hollywood
By JIMMIE FIDLER
HOLLYWOOD, March 30.—Consider the case of Van Johnson and quit wondering why so many youngsters come here to Hollywood to hammer on the studio gates and, having once arrived, stay on and on in spite of every trick that Lady Luck can play on them.
I first met Johnson in the Spring of 1942, just about five years ago. He'd come out here from the New York stage where he'd done a few specialty numbers in "Pal Joey," and he'd flopped in pictures just about as completely as it's humanly possible to flop.
Without a definite prospect of any kind, and so discouraged that he decided at least once a day to quit Hollywood and return to New York. Unless I'm mistaken in my surmise, he failed to carry that decision into effect for the one excellent reason that he couldn't afford the move.
Six months later, to his own amazement and that of everyone who knew him, he was well on the way to stardom at MGM. By 1942, he was a coast-to-coast sensation. By 1943 he was a star. And now he's the owner of a brand new contract which guarantees him a wage of $5200 a week for seven years!
Admittedly, there are nine would-be's for every youngster who does make the grade. But what are odds like that when the rewards for those who do are so fabulous? To one who has a flair for exhibitionism and the innate ego that's common to all actors, one chance in ten is certainly not discouraging.

Ode to Anonymity
PEOPLE who find themselves browbeaten by the tyranny of names have found a champion. She is Jane Reis, poetess of Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y., and she not only doubts that names are important, but considers them a nuisance. Miss Reis, we think, speaks for newspaper men, who must always get the middle initial straight, and put the i before the e. She speaks as well for football announcers, genealogists and headwaiters, for introducers of after-dinner speakers and anyone who thinks he ought to be able to remember the name of the fellow he met at lunch.
Such worry about names, according to Miss Reis, is erroneous. It is also impractical, perplexing, undemocratic and discomfiting. And if Miss Reis is six years old, and her songs are transcribed by her mother without her knowledge, still she is wisely quoted in such stage publications as the Saturday Review of Literature and the New York Herald Tribune, which is good enough for us. We quote:
My name is me.
Big people have names that go crazy and dizzy.
But anyway I don't know them.
For the moment, Miss Reis, our name is we, and neither do we, neither do we.

Bids for Parking Lot
To the Editor: What Pottstown needs the most is a central parking lot. We hear lots of complaints on our traffic and parking conditions, especially during shopping hours at the present time.
With Pottstown planning expansion and people planning to build homes in and around Pottstown the condition will become steadily worse.
If parking conditions were better, the traffic on Main street would be considerably less because it would eliminate driving up and down a half dozen times looking for a parking space. Also the side streets would be freer of traffic, thus making all streets safer for pedestrians and drivers.
I have heard people say they spend half of their shopping time looking for a parking space, so better parking conditions would encourage more out-of-town shoppers and for longer periods.
The expansion of Pottstown means more people and more cars so for a bigger, better and more important of all a safer Pottstown we really need a parking lot.

YOUR HEALTH
By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.
CANCER occurs in many parts of the body. A fairly common location for cancer is on the face, particularly about the nose and eyes.
Medical men know most of these skin cancers as basal cell epitheliomas. Quite fortunately this type of cancer differs from others in that it does not metastasize. This means that the tumor cells are not carried by the blood or lymph to other parts of the body to set up new growths in hidden and inaccessible places as is the case with so many other types of cancer. In other words, a skin cancer is most likely to be a local disturbance, which with proper treatment can readily be done away with.
Everybody should realize that these skin cancers grow slowly, so it is wise not to disregard a dangerous growth simply because it seems at the time to be making no particular trouble. Some such cancers may even take years to reach a size from one-half to an inch across.
The growth usually begins on a reddened, scaly spot which becomes a little thickened and shiny. The thickening may be so slight that it is barely noticeable. The central part of the growth becomes covered with crust and when it is knocked off or pulled off there is some bleeding. Then a new crust forms.
There is another form of this tumor called a rodent ulcer. It is a destructive growth which occurs mostly about the eyes, ears or nose. If allowed to continue this may destroy large areas of tissue.
According to Dr. Jerome P. Webster, of New York, the two main methods of treatment are X-ray and surgical removal. The type of treatment to be used will depend upon the location of the growth and its extent. For example, if the growth is on the end of the nose, cutting off the growth might cause some deformity. Hence, X-ray treatment would, as a rule, be better.
On the other hand, if the tumor is located on the ear, X-ray treatment may cause inflammation of the ear cartilage which is painful and difficult to heal. Many of the skin cancers may be eliminated completely with X-ray treatment without noticeable scarring. In cases which do not respond to the X-ray, surgical removal is employed.
Whenever a person has a sore which does not seem to be healing the doctor should be seen without delay. Rest assured he will make an immediate examination to determine definitely if the sore is a skin cancer and proceed to treat it accordingly.

Obedience to Law
IT IS the duty of every organization and of every private citizen to obey the law. We may consider a statute unjust or unlawful and we may appeal to the courts for a decision. But we have no recourse save obedience to every particular law so long as it remains on the statute books or has not been pronounced null and void by the courts.
It must be granted that our country is just not the center of much indifference to law. This is greatly to be regretted, for it is a fact that contempt for law or even indifference is a very great menace to national prosperity.

Farmers' Day Proposed
AMERICAN calendars may soon feature a brand new holiday—thanks to South Dakota farmer Carl Naessig.
Naessig wrote his Congressman, Rep. Mark Mundt, urging a farmers "Labor Day." Rep. Mundt—who thought it a swell idea—dropped a bill in the House hopper which would make the first Monday in October a National Farm Holiday—a "day off" to honor the soil tiller and "focus attention on agriculture's recurring problems." It has better than a fair chance of becoming law.
By historic coincidence, the law creating Labor Day was also proposed (in 1894) by another South Dakotan—Sen. James H. Kyle.

I think POTTSTOWN needs better streets. For instance Beech street is full of holes, needing to be filled and tarred. With the bus running along there it makes it very hard for drivers. With all the traffic and dust circulating dust flies in your face.
Pottstown needs more scenic homes. Three and four families live in one house. This is not the best for healthy conditions. A person should have one room to himself. In some homes there isn't much sunlight. We should have more homes with scenery to look at and not just other houses all around.
By ARLENE SMITH
Improve the streets. Most of them are very narrow, very bumpy and very dirty. The sidewalks also are very uneven, very narrow and very dirty. Many places there isn't even a sidewalk.
We should have more traffic lights and they should all be working the same way so as not to cause traffic jams. Police should have nothing to do with the traffic lights.

Sidewalks also are needed. They are uneven and in some places you have to walk in the street which is dangerous for young children and old people.
We need more traffic lights at High and Evans, King and Evans and King and Franklin streets. Lights should not be worked by a policeman. We also need more police protection. We would not have as many children killed if we had more playgrounds so they would not play on the streets and pavements.
Clean the Schuylkill and have water fit to drink to protect the health of the people. There would not be so much sickness.

CANCER occurs in many parts of the body. A fairly common location for cancer is on the face, particularly about the nose and eyes.
Medical men know most of these skin cancers as basal cell epitheliomas. Quite fortunately this type of cancer differs from others in that it does not metastasize. This means that the tumor cells are not carried by the blood or lymph to other parts of the body to set up new growths in hidden and inaccessible places as is the case with so many other types of cancer. In other words, a skin cancer is most likely to be a local disturbance, which with proper treatment can readily be done away with.
Everybody should realize that these skin cancers grow slowly, so it is wise not to disregard a dangerous growth simply because it seems at the time to be making no particular trouble. Some such cancers may even take years to reach a size from one-half to an inch across.
The growth usually begins on a reddened, scaly spot which becomes a little thickened and shiny. The thickening may be so slight that it is barely noticeable. The central part of the growth becomes covered with crust and when it is knocked off or pulled off there is some bleeding. Then a new crust forms.
There is another form of this tumor called a rodent ulcer. It is a destructive growth which occurs mostly about the eyes, ears or nose. If allowed to continue this may destroy large areas of tissue.
According to Dr. Jerome P. Webster, of New York, the two main methods of treatment are X-ray and surgical removal. The type of treatment to be used will depend upon the location of the growth and its extent. For example, if the growth is on the end of the nose, cutting off the growth might cause some deformity. Hence, X-ray treatment would, as a rule, be better.
On the other hand, if the tumor is located on the ear, X-ray treatment may cause inflammation of the ear cartilage which is painful and difficult to heal. Many of the skin cancers may be eliminated completely with X-ray treatment without noticeable scarring. In cases which do not respond to the X-ray, surgical removal is employed.
Whenever a person has a sore which does not seem to be healing the doctor should be seen without delay. Rest assured he will make an immediate examination to determine definitely if the sore is a skin cancer and proceed to treat it accordingly.

Obedience to Law
IT IS the duty of every organization and of every private citizen to obey the law. We may consider a statute unjust or unlawful and we may appeal to the courts for a decision. But we have no recourse save obedience to every particular law so long as it remains on the statute books or has not been pronounced null and void by the courts.
It must be granted that our country is just not the center of much indifference to law. This is greatly to be regretted, for it is a fact that contempt for law or even indifference is a very great menace to national prosperity.

Holiest of Weeks
HOLY WEEK is with us. To many in Pottstown and vicinity this sacred week will be observed with great solemnity.

The week of prayer really started yesterday with Palm Sunday observance, now will go into deeper mourning as the time to commemorate Good Friday approaches. The week will end with the end of a 40-day fast period by many church-goers.

Easter Sunday, of course, is a day of rejoicing. It will be observed to commemorate the rising of Christ from the tomb. Next Sunday the church services will be joyous, the churches will be decorated brightly with flowers, the church-goers will wear their Easter finery.

It is a week of prayer and rejoicing. Pottstown will observe it with appropriate dignity.

Ode to Anonymity

PEOPLE who find themselves browbeaten by the tyranny of names have found a champion. She is Jane Reis, poetess of Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y., and she not only doubts that names are important, but considers them a nuisance. Miss Reis, we think, speaks for newspaper men, who must always get the middle initial straight, and put the i before the e. She speaks as well for football announcers, genealogists and headwaiters, for introducers of after-dinner speakers and anyone who thinks he ought to be able to remember the name of the fellow he met at lunch.

Such worry about names, according to Miss Reis, is erroneous. It is also impractical, perplexing, undemocratic and discomfiting. And if Miss Reis is six years old, and her songs are transcribed by her mother without her knowledge, still she is widely quoted in such sage publications as the Saturday Review of Literature and the New York Herald Tribune, which is good enough for us. We quote:

My name is me.
Big people have names that go crazy and dizzy.
But anyway I don't know them.
For the moment, Miss Reis, our name is we, and neither do we, neither do we.

Demand Exceeds Supply

RELATIVELY few Americans suffer from one of the nation's most serious shortages. But those who do may be driven to desperation. They are the couples who yearn to be among the estimated 50,000 who will adopt babies this year.

Unfortunately, the pressure of demand—about 10 couples clamor for every baby available through approved agencies—will drive about a third of the would-be parents into the "black market." Results of these unsupervised arrangements can be tragic.

A couple requesting a girl must wait longer than those who want a boy. Unwed mothers seem more inclined to keep girls and more people ask for them. "You can dress a girl up cuter," they say, or "she stays part of the family longer."

PUNKIN CORNERS,
Editor, The Mercury, March 30.
Dear Sir N Brother:

Wal, maybe now that Palm Sunday is passed, we may get Spring-like weather. The cold weather of the past week had us oldsters planting the sweet peas while our beards fast were becoming icicles!

Most of us had to run up the white flag when the snow flakes became so thick we couldn't tell whether we were planting grass seed or handful of snow!

And say: There's one consolation in this cold, late March weather. If the lawn and garden turn out terrible, I always can blame it on the weatherman. Hopin' you air the same,

More Homes, Less Houses

To the Editor: What we need in town is more homes, less houses, more adults, fewer childish people.

This is a "Dutch" district long noted for homes, places where the sun shines out of the windows not only in them, where women have realized this fact and acted as adults by making a career of being a wife and mother. That is a big enough task without trying to work in a mill or store on the side. Sure, you think you are doing fine, but what do your children miss?

What is the main reason for juvenile delinquency?

Children are restless wanting something and not knowing what. It's homes where they can find spiritual guidance, cheer, a place where they can bring their friends, someone to speak to frankly and not be ridiculed.

There are memory gems for both children and parents. Whether it's an apartment or house, it becomes a home with the sun shining out of the windows where people live while trying to bring humor, peace and harmony and spiritual well being.

Children want a home where they can feel wanted and have a sense of security and a desire instinctively to do what is just and good for all.

Too many young people today brag about their mothers' bridge scores, evening dresses, how late she came home, Pop's bowling score, how much he can drink, how many clubs he belongs to, how many laws he breaks.

We need to start in our own hearts and individual residences making homes not showplaces. Give the youngsters a break and receive double because we won't need extra police or a public hang-out for the crowd.

Make Pottstown your home town, and people will want to live here and bring their business here.

Pottstown ME TOO

Bids for Parking Lot

To the Editor: What Pottstown needs the most is a central parking lot. We hear lots of complaints on our traffic and parking conditions, especially during shopping hours at the present time.

With Pottstown planning expansion and people planning to build homes in and around Pottstown the condition will become steadily worse.

If parking conditions were better, the traffic on High street would be considerably less because it would eliminate driving up and down a half dozen times looking for a parking space. Also the side streets would be freer of traffic, thus making all streets safer for pedestrians and drivers.

I have heard people say they spend half of their shopping time looking for a parking space, so better parking conditions would encourage more out-of-town shoppers and for longer periods.

The expansion of Pottstown means more people and more cars so for a bigger, better and most important of all a safer Pottstown we really need a parking lot.

Russia to Fight Pressure on Reds

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Truman attempt to check Russia will provoke fierce retaliation in the form of an even more pugnacious foreign policy and "fifth column" activities within the boundaries of the three western powers arrayed against her, according to experienced diplomats and political students of Soviet strategy.

These experts, who have been consulted by the White House and the State Department in an effort to prepare for any emergency, insist that the Kremlin will pursue the same pattern it did on three other occasions when the so-called capitalistic nations resorted to financial and military pressure against Communism. Those critical and determinative years were 1917, 1927 and 1939.

The Presidential consultants' reports and forecasts have been accepted at face value by the White House and Congressional leaders, for it is almost impossible to gainsay them.

Nevertheless, Mr. Truman and his advisers believe that the United States must challenge Russian imperialism while it stands on the threshold of the world and not wait until it has crashed all international doors.

OUTLAW: The Communist revolution of 1917 October might have taken an entirely different direction, according to these experts, if it had not been for the effort of World War I Allies to crush it.

It was Lenin's fear of the counter-revolution inspired by Lloyd George, Churchill, Clemenceau and even Woodrow Wilson which led the Marxist to impose an iron government at home and to try to promote rebellion among the "proletariat" in enemy countries. Another factor which precipitated the "Communist terror" inside Russia was the Trotskyites' persistent opposition to Lenin's policies.

The Allies, then as now, financed the anti-Communist movement headed by such "White Russians" as Denikin, Kolchak and Wrangel. The bitterness engendered by this effort to kill off the infant Soviet Republic forced the Kremlin to break off any kind of relations with the other powers and to become an outlaw in the family of nations.

Incidentally, Stalin led the armies which defeated Denikin in the south, and was a guiding spirit in framing the Russia-against-the-world policies which have influenced Moscow ever since those bloody days.

MILITARIZATION: The 1927 crisis bore a striking resemblance to the dangers which confronted the Bolsheviks in 1917 and to the current attempt to bottle up Russia and prevent Communism from engulfing Central Europe, the Middle East and the Orient.

By then Stalin had gained supremacy over the Trotsky faction, and had repudiated the latter's ideas that a Communist state could exist only if all other nations were forced to adopt similar principles through revolt of the "proletariat." Stalin maintained that he could build a strong, collective society within Russia through industrial and agricultural advances.

Again, however, outside nations intervened to exhort the Soviet into bitterness and excess. Following the 1926 general strike, Britain severed relations. Although he had accepted Communist aid, Chiang Kai-shek began to butcher Chinese "Reds." Pilsudski became dictator in Poland with the avowed purpose of overthrowing the Soviet. Charles Evans Hughes rebuffed overtures for diplomatic and commercial relations.

The direct result was Stalin's inauguration of the first Five-Year Plan, which had as its immediate objective the industrialization and the militarization of backward Russia. Indeed, had it not been for this and successive "plans," Hitler would have overrun Russia in 1941-42, and there might have been a different outcome to World War II.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.
CANCER occurs in many parts of the body. A fairly common location for cancer is on the face, particularly about the nose and eyes.

Medical men know most of these skin cancers as basal cell epitheliomas. Quite fortunately, this type of cancer differs from others in that it does not metastasize. This means that the tumor cells are not carried by the blood or lymph to other parts of the body to set up new growths in hidden and inaccessible places as is the case with so many other types of cancer. In other words, a skin cancer is most likely to be a local disturbance, which with proper treatment can readily be done away with.

Everybody should realize that these skin cancers grow slowly, so it is wise not to disregard a dangerous growth simply because it seems at the time to be making no particular trouble. Some such cancers may even take years to reach a size from one-half to an inch across.

The growth usually begins on a reddened, scaly spot which becomes a little thickened and shiny. The thickening may be so slight that it is barely noticeable. The central part of the growth becomes covered with crust and when it is knocked off or pulled off there is some bleeding. Then a new crust forms.

There is another form of this tumor called a rodent ulcer. It is a destructive growth which occurs mostly about the eyes, ears or nose. If allowed to continue this may destroy large areas of tissue.

According to Dr. Jerome P. Webster, of New York, the two main methods of treatment are X-ray and surgical removal. The type of treatment to be used will depend upon the location of the growth and its extent. For example, if the growth is on the end of the nose, cutting off the growth might cause some deformity. Hence, X-ray treatment would, as a rule, be better.

On the other hand, if the tumor is located on the ear, X-ray treatment may cause inflammation of the ear cartilage which is painful and difficult to heal. Many of the skin cancers may be eliminated completely with X-ray treatment without noticeably scarring. In cases which do not respond to the X-ray, surgical removal is employed.

Whenever a person has a sore which does not seem to be healing the doctor should be seen without delay. Rest assured he will make an immediate examination to determine definitely if the sore is a skin cancer and proceed to treat it accordingly.

THE WITCHING HOUR

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, March 30.—Consider the case of Van Johnson and quit wondering why so many youngsters come here to Hollywood to hammer on the studio gates and, having once arrived, stay on and on in spite of every trick that Lady Luck can play on them.

I first met Johnson in the Spring of 1942, just about five years ago. He'd come out here from the New York stage, where he'd done a few specialty numbers in "Pal Joey," and he'd flopped in pictures just about as completely as it's humanly possible to flop. He was broke, without a definite prospect of any kind, and so discouraged that he decided at least once a day to quit Hollywood and return to New York. Unless I'm mistaken in my surmise, he failed to carry that decision into effect for the one excellent reason that he couldn't afford the move.

Six months later, to his own amazement and that of everyone who knew him, he was well on the way to stardom at MGM. By 1942, he was a coast-to-coast sensation. By 1943, he was a star. And now he's the owner of a brand new contract which guarantees him a wage of $5200 a week for seven years!

Admittedly, there are nine would-be's for every youngster who does make the grade—but what are the odds like that when the rewards for those who click are so fabulous? To one who has a flair for exhibitionism and the innate ego that's common to all actors, one chance in ten is certainly not discouraging.

IDOL CHATTER: George Raft is ample proof that you can still be a man about town when you're a man about fifty. . . . Peas-in-a-pod: Ray Milland and Concert Singer Thomas L. Thomas. . . . Amazing, isn't it, how glamour girls labor to cover up wrinkles, but think nothing about exposing bad dispositions? . . . Ode to mayhem: "Don't get so hot under the collar, Mr. Woolley, you might start a brush fire." . . . When MGM talks about build-ups for Mickey Rooney, I never know whether they mean publicity campaigns or high-heeled shoes. . . . Add odds-on bets: That Rita Hayworth, at this present moment, would decline to work in Orson Welles' "saw-the-woman-in-half" act. . . . As an educational film, "Duel In The Sun" sticks to fundamentals—bleeding and riding—and writhe-matic. . . . Nominated for the best speaking voice award: Robert Mitchell.

Seven weeks ago, due to plane east for the start of spring training, Leo Durocher lingered on the "Tycoon" set with Laraine Day until the last possible moment. When he left, she was before the cameras with John Wayne, receiving a scorching kiss. When he returned to Hollywood five weeks later to take her back to Havana with him, he rushed from the airport to the studio where she was still working in "Tycoon." Retakes were in order that day, and he stepped onto the set to find her doing the selfsame kissing scene with Wayne!

Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Last Week in New York

SPRING arrived windily and wetly, with snow flurries in her hair and galoshes on her feet, giving Broadwayites the shivers and Broadway night club owners another excuse for the current bad business. . . . La Martiniere, unable to get over the hump of the seasonal Lenten lull, became the first major cafe to be doldrummed out of existence, and dancing indications were that more would follow unless a landslide of customers fell to the rescue. . . . Unworried in the midst of gloom was New York night life's smartest cookie, Sherman Billingsley. Admitting that business was not what it ought to be, he cheered himself up by sending buckets of champagne to every table and passing out perfume, lipsticks, gold door keys and souvenir cigarette holders with an abandon that was startling even in the prodigal atmosphere of the Stork Club. "I'll forget about making money for awhile," said he. "I want nice people to come here, even if they don't spend much money. With business bad, a lot of the other clubs will try to squeeze every cent out of every customer. I won't. Then when times are good again, the people will remember."

It was noised around that Gregory Peck and Dorothy Maguire would make the film version of "Gentleman's Agreement" here in Manhattan and thronged on the heels of the recent Jennifer Jones-Joseph Cotton "Portrait of Jenny" shooting in Central Park and the current Victor Mature-Brian Donlevy "Kiss of Death" goings-on locally—makes our island stack high as a groovy movie town. . . . Daphne Hellman, the pretty harpist, said a tearful goodbye to Spivy's Roof and the clientele thereof. Daphy has been a great success there, playing Bach and boogie-woogie on her golden instrument, but she had to leave. The Fire Department declared her harp a fire hazard—it blocked the exit.

In his Waldorf Towers apartment, the fabulously well-heeled Maharajah of Baroda, India, spent an afternoon conferring with an internationally impressive jeweler about the purchase of more precious stones, an always pleasant, pastime, although in the case of the Maharajah, quite superfluous. His present stockpile of baubles includes the famous "Star of the South" necklace of diamonds valued at more than $1,000,000; a carpet four yards square of diamonds, pearls and rubies woven into a pattern, and a glamorous if possibly uncomfortable pair of gem-encrusted pantaloons worth $50,000. . . . Almost at the same hour, a family of American Indians—equally worthy but considerably less glittering—invaded the Hotel Algonquin and asked to be shown to "the wedding." John Martin, the hotel's manager, told them there was no wedding scheduled in his precinct, but they insisted they'd been told the shindig was to be held "at a hotel on W. 44th st. with an Indian name." What but the Algonquin? Mr. Martin thought fast, whispered a few words, and sent mamma squaw, poppa brave and papoose happily heading in the direction of the Hotel Iroquois, a few doors up the street.

Eddie Davis, usually as pallid as a peeled cucumber, strolled Broadway by returning from Florida with a copper-bronze tinge, and reported that when he opens at Leon & Eddie's tonight he intends to beat a few politicians to the punch by introducing a new ditty entitled "I Do Not Choose to Run in '48," not that anybody asked him. . . . Ruth Etting, now silver-white of hair, stepping into the spotlight of the Copacabana in a bronze headed gown (worn backwards, because she liked it better that way) and sang her immortal "He's Funny That Way" for a few who didn't remember, and a lot who did. . . . At Jimmy Ryan's boite, Greta Garbo, fooling nobody with her black wig, sent a drink of Cherry Herring to Bunty Penleton on her birthday and asked her to sing "These Foolish Things Remind Me of You."

June Knight strolled 5th avenue with her cab-calling gold whistle dangling from her wrist, and Vivienne Segal, who brags that she's been in the theatre for 31 years, turned up at the 1-2-3 looking just about 32. . . . Maurice Chevalier, an early diner at Leone's, sat at the Will Rogers table—and proprietor Gene sentimentally recalled the night, scarcely 15 years ago, when Maurice sat at that same table with Jimmy Walker, Hye Igge, W. C. Fields and Damon Runyon, now all sadly gone.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Easter Color...
Reflected on Cards...

OMPH—Easter greeting card designs, traditionally colorful, have been given an added decorative touch this year. Borrowing a page out of the fashion book, familiar favorites like bunnies, chicks, ducks and eggs are now provided with "accessories"—bonnets with silk ribbons and real feathers, jackets of rayon and cropped wool, and silk bow ties. . . . With wartime shortages in materials becoming less acute, Easter-card designers have been able to lend imaginative treatment to a wide variety of Easter greetings ranging in mood from religious to sentimental and whimsical.

CHOICE—There is a card for everyone this year. For the housewife, "From One Spring House-Cleaner to Another." For the neighbors, "From Our House Straight to Your House." For relatives, there are cards addressed to every member of the family, including relatives-to-be: "Easter Thoughts of My Friend's Mother." Even a possibility for "flattering the boss is provided: "To a Man I Admire."

CUT-UPS—For the children there are cut-out cards ranging in size from four inches to several over 10 inches. The larger cut-outs are provided with cardboard props so the cards can stand upright. Many feature bunnies and chicks wearing woolen or rayon jackets and berets, and ducks with chic bonnets tied with pink ribbon. . . . One cut-out card shows a mother rabbit holding a large hat box, with a baby rabbit inside. A slit in the hat box enables the recipient to lift the bunny out of the box. There is an "Easter Express." A card cut in the shape of a locomotive, with a rabbit for an engineer and four daisies for wheels. The card unfolds to become a train filled with bunnies, chicks and ducks.

THEME—The religious theme provides the most beautiful designs of all. The deeply-moving scene in the garden at Gethsemane is depicted in softly blended shades. Calla lilies adorn many designs using the silhouette of the cross in gold or silver against a background of light blue. And one very attractive card shows two small girls in peasant costumes placing a bouquet of violets at the foot of a way-side shrine.

STYLE—Fashions are reflected in cards showing bunnies wearing bonnets that have veils of real lace, ducks wearing half hats and sailors, and a little girl with pig-tails proudly displaying a bird's nest creation. . . . Eggs, which were the original Easter greetings, are appropriate favorites on this year's cards. You have your choice of satin eggs decorated with translucent flowers, eggs made of rayon mesh, perfumed eggs and, on the whimsical side, eggs with human faces sporting bow ties made of rayon or silk. . . .

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

FREDDY F., 8, is a normal boy in third grade.

"But we have the greatest trouble with Freddy," his mother protracted wearily. "He won't do this and he won't do that. 'I spend most of the time while he is at home trying to make him do his chores and wash his face, etc.' Dr. Crane, I have punished him, and scolded him, but without much success."

"How can I make him do what he is supposed to do?"

There are two viewpoints in child rearing. One is represented by this mother who asks, "How can I make Freddy do so and so?"

The other and sounder method is to ask, "How can I make Freddy WANT to do so and so? We should soft pedal corporal punishment and browbeating as much as possible, substituting tactful coaxing in place of them."

As a boy, Benjamin Franklin spent an hour or more turning the grindstone for the stranger with the ax. Franklin's hands grew blistered and his arms ached but he kept on. Why? Because he WANTED to turn the grindstone. Why? Because he wanted to be thought a big fellow, a man with strong muscles. The stranger understood this law of child psychology. So he inflated the boy's ego even while Franklin's hands grew blistered.

In a recent survey of 1500 youngsters, I found that up till the age of eight, children frequently boasted about being permitted to wash or dry the dishes, operate the vacuum cleaner, make the beds, etc.

But after the age of eight, they ceased to regard such items as pleasurable games but began to look upon them as painful duties. From that time on they were compelled to do such household tasks as their daily chores, and no longer did they receive much praise or ego inflation therefrom.

Formerly they were greeted with "Big girl, that's wonderful," when they washed the dishes. Now they are greeted with, "Hurry up, Janet, and get your dishes done before bedtime."

Play is simply that which we do voluntarily and from liking. It may consist of tasks involving much energy consumption. A young man will play tennis all afternoon on a hot summer day and think it fun.

But the same lad will groan if he has to mow the lawn on such a warm afternoon. My boys will spend an entire day digging a cave in the back yard, because they like the excitement of imagining themselves pirates or bandits or pioneer hunters and trappers.

One of our famous English psychologists got his son to dig out a stump in the garden by having him imagine that every small root was an enemy soldier, a larger root was a company, and roots as big as his arm were regiments, etc.

The boy no longer dallied en route home from school, as he had previously done. He hastened home, changed clothes, and set to work. One day he even asked his father to cancel some speaking engagements so they could conquer the entire enemy on that afternoon.

As parents and teachers, we must try to appreciate the child's viewpoint and fasten ego-inflating attributes to what are now dreaded chores. That will cause our youngsters to WANT to do what they now often avoid.

Bavarians Protest Nazism Still Lingers

NUERNBERG, Germany, March 30 (AP)—Thousands of former victims of Nazi persecution assembled in 24 protest meetings throughout Bavaria today and heard speakers charge that Nazism still flourished in Germany.

The meetings were called by Dr. Philipp Auerbach, Bavarian commissioner for racial and religious persecutions.

Addressing approximately 1000 persons here, Auerbach called the bombing of his Nuernberg office Wednesday night only one of many signs that Nazism had not yet been stamped out. He recently charged that there was a resurgence of anti-Semitism among the German people.

Hearings Seen Probable In State Tax Issue

HARRISBURG, March 30 (AP)—Proposals for levies on soft drinks and tobacco, an integral part of Governor Duff's $133,000,000 tax program, will likely be aired at a public hearing, a top legislative leader indicated today.

"There seems to be some feeling that there ought to be public hearings," said Senate majority leader O. J. Tallman (R-Lehigh) in disclosing he would press for a Senate committee hearing of the levies which received swift House approval the past week.

The GOP-dominated House, in passing these and other imposts on beer, liquor and corporations, beat down last-ditch Democratic demands for a public hearing.

600 Persons Attend Fashion Show Sponsored By Pottstown Hospital Junior Auxiliary

"Don't follow the leader," was the advice given to 600 spectators attending the preview of Spring and Summer fashions sponsored by the Junior auxiliary of Pottstown hospital and staged Saturday afternoon in Sunnybrook Ballroom.

"Fashion is free, so we have freedom in fashion," suggested Mrs. Betty Speed, commentator for the show. For illustration of her words lovely models displayed the latest in suits, afternoon dresses, play clothes, and the glamorous evening attire.

With the dropping of the OPA regulation 185 the fashion designers have given my lady longer skirts and have glamorized her with a full round shoulder line and interesting draped skirts. The materials of her dress, both for daytime and evening, can vary from seersucker to the lowliest of real silk and her hats are very severe in their simplicity or gaily decorated with colorful flowers.

One of the outstanding costumes was a gray tulle dressmaker suit, styled for daytime wear. The coat of the suit was cut to give the long slim look and was neatly trimmed at the neckline and pockets with white piping. To complete the outfit the model wore a tiny white-stitched pique hat and she carried a large blue pouch-styled bag which carried out the lines of the silhouette.

Play clothes—ever popular among the juniors—were charming. The short tennis dress is again in vogue and shorts are being tailored long enough for modesty and short enough for freedom. The chambrays and cottons are always a part of the playtime wardrobe and one pleasing model of chambrase chambray, featuring a prim neckline and very full skirt drew much applause from the younger members of the audience.

Costumes of brilliant prints and pastel shades featuring the side drapery and uneven hemline are the favorite for afternoon attire. One lovely model was a beige and worn with a large moss green hat trimmed with brilliant colored poppies.

For evening when the smartly styled woman turns her attention to glamour, the designer again makes it possible for her not to follow the leader. One beautiful model of pure silk print measured seven yards around the bottom of the skirt, and was slightly shorter in the front. As was suggested by the commentator, "Such a gown just begs to dance." However, if the lady prefers lines of more sophistication she could choose a model of black crepe, handsome in its severity and having a clever pleat that can be worn or not, depending on the occasion.

W-P CUSTOMERS, THANK YOU
For your very kind consideration during our mechanical break-down at our damp wash plant last week.
In the most serious mishap in 27 years which put our plant out of commission for 3 whole days thus delaying damp wash service, the spirit in which the delay was accepted by our customers was greatly appreciated by us. We worked day and night to try to give you service, but in spite of that, the delay went beyond our worst expectations. Thank you again, customers.

600 Persons Attend Fashion Show Sponsored By Pottstown Hospital Junior Auxiliary

The materials of her dress, both for daytime and evening, can vary from seersucker to the loveliest of real silk and her hats are very severe in their simplicity or gaily decorated with colorful flowers.

One of the outstanding costumes was a gray flannel dressmaker suit, styled for daytime wear. The coat of the suit was cut to give the long slim look and was neatly trimmed at the neckline and pockets with white pique. Every fashion show must have a bride and this was no exception. The bride wore a lovely white gown with long tight sleeves, and a sweetheart neckline. Her two attendants were gowned in similar dresses of pastel pink and blue. In their hair they wore clusters of deep purple violets and carried tiny corsages of the same flowers.

Miss Katherine Beshenwor and Mrs. Clarence Welch were co-chairmen in charge of arrangements for the show. The proceeds from the affair will be used in the new pediatrics department of the hospital.

Mrs. John Longaker won a gift certificate that was awarded at the end of the show.

British Leaders Asked To Import More Coal

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—The Federation of British Industries urged Britain today to import 10,000,000 tons of coal from the United States or South Africa "without reducing the quantities being shipped for the relief of Europe."

In a statement of proposals for dealing with the nation's economic crisis, the manufacturers' organization said the British coal-production target for 1947 also should be increased 10 percent to 220,000,000 tons.

"A coal budget which involves the retarding of industry at anything like present levels is a policy of ruin," the report stated.

AMG Reports Germans On Road to Recovery

BERLIN, March 30 (AP)—German economy in the American zone of occupation has started a gradual recovery after virtually a complete shutdown due to the severest winter freeze-up in decades, the latest semi-monthly report of the American military government said today.

Thaws have enabled an increase in water power, although not sufficient to allow lifting all restrictions on industry. Despite floods which washed out bridges and tracks and sank river craft, coal also began to move to the factories.

During the Spring months the wise coal buyer places his order for next Winters supply. Now is the time to tell us your needs. All orders will be filled in rotation and since most sizes are plentiful we hope to be able to meet your demands.

British Leaders Asked To Import More Coal

LONDON, March 30 (AP) — The Federation of British Industries urged Britain today to import 10,000,000 tons of coal from the United States or South Africa "without reducing the quantities being shipped for the relief of Europe."

In a statement of proposals for dealing with the nation's economic crisis, the manufacturers' organization said the British coal-production target for 1947 also should be increased 10 percent to 220,000,000 tons.

"A coal budget which involves the rationing of industry at anything like present levels is a policy of ruin," the report stated.

AMG Reports Germans On Road to Recovery

BERLIN, March 30 (AP)—German economy in the American zone of occupation has started a gradual recovery after virtually a complete shutdown due to the severest inter freeze-up in decades, the latest semi-monthly report of the American military government said today.

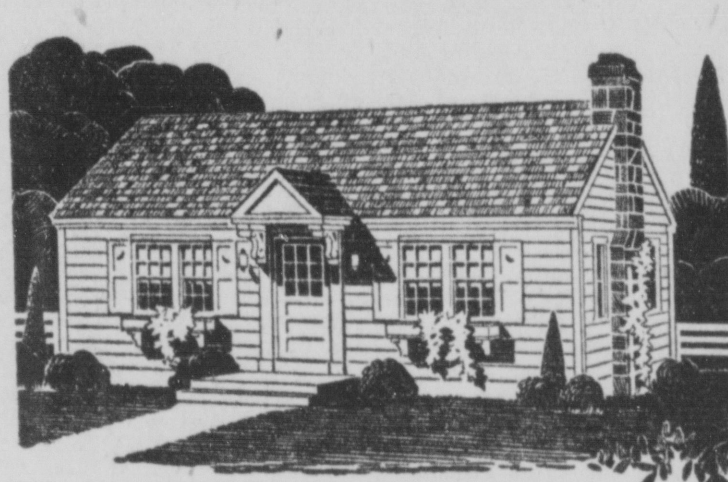

Thaws have enabled an increase in water power, although not sufficient to allow lifting all restrictions on industry. Despite floods which washed out bridges and tracks and sank river craft, coal also began to move to the factories.

FORMOSA —

Formosans agreed that the government's monopoly system in various businesses, particularly tobacco, had touched off what the Chinese called a "government organ" — an official government organ — said was open and widespread rebellion.

Powell added the disorders culminated a year and a half of rampant Chinese misrule which he said had squeezed and oppressed the Formosans far worse than when they were ruled by the Japanese.

China lost Formosa in 1895; it was restored to her in 1945 after the Japanese surrender.

Powell's article, entitled "Blood Bath in Taiwan," said the administration of Governor Chen Yi had coupled trickery with a reign of terror which he said was probably unequalled in the history of Kuomintang China and thus had virtually suppressed the rebellion.

Powell wrote that the riots were preceded by extremely severe searches of shops and peddlers by police who, he said, were trying to enforce new economic regulations which virtually abolished private trade. These regulations, he said, directly violated central government laws in China proper.

The proverbial last straw came Feb. 27, he declared, when police killed a 40-year-old woman in Taipei (Taihoku), the capital, when she protested seizure of her cigarette tray. He said a man died from a shot fired by another policeman into the crowd of onlookers.

Next day the riots began, he continued, and a mob marched toward Chen Yi's office to petition for compensation of survivors and punishment of the policemen. He said police fired into this crowd and killed four Formosans, wounding several others.

Meanwhile, his account went on, another mob beat two policemen to death, sacked a tobacco monopoly building and burned all its goods. He said that other mobs roamed the streets, grabbing and beating all mainland Chinese they could find and sacking many Chinese homes.

SPICER FOREMEN MEET

Sister Identifies
Slain Girl's Body

WASHINGTON, March 30 (P)—Deputy Coroner Howard Pettit said today a young woman, believed to have been slain along a rural road was identified as Lois Hope, 16, of Cantonburg.

Identification was made by a sister, Laura, 20, after she had viewed the girl's battered body at a funeral home.

Pettit said the slain girl, youngest of eight children, had left home Thursday to spend the night with a girl friend.

Police immediately began a check of the girl's movements from the time she left home until her scantily-clad body was found dumped over a bank on a road near here yesterday. An autopsy showed the cause of death was a blow on the head just above the eye.

The girl's clothing was torn and her face bruised, but she had not been criminally assaulted.

TURKEY SEEN —

Iran, Iraq, Arabia and other nations would have to bow to Communist demands, throwing the Middle East wide open to Russia.

The ambassador added that Turkey now is solvent, but cannot long remain so if it is forced to foot the bill alone for maintaining a large standing army which drains not only its finances but its manpower.

Some $150,000,000 of the $400,000,000 fund asked by Mr. Truman would go to Turkey, all for military purposes.

Wilson was quoted as testifying that the Russians have made it necessary for the Turks to maintain a large force by keeping their troops on the Turkish border but have not directly molested Turkey. The Soviets also seek a share in control of the Dardanelles.

Senators said the ambassador repeated that Turkey, unlike Greece, has few Communists within her borders and is not facing any internal upheaval unless the government should become too weak financially.

Lincoln MacVeagh, U.S. ambassador to Greece, was said to have told committee members in the same session that the Communists are even stronger within Greece than had been supposed from reports reaching this country.

There King George's government is battling armed Communist guerrillas reputedly trained and equipped by the country. MacVeagh's testimony also is expected to be made public later by the committee.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) seeks to cut Turkey off with-out any funds and to limit aid to Greece to the furnishing of relief N.M.A. plans to take the lead in opposing Johnson's amendment when it comes before the foreign relations committee this week.

Youth Held in Lancaster
For Home Burglaries

A 16-year-old Pottstown youth, arrested in Lancaster Friday, told city detectives there that he had "robbed so many houses in the past 18 months that he had lost count." He was apprehended in a Lancaster apartment house which he was reported to have ransacked.

Patrolman Paul Gumbert, of the Pottstown police department, was in Lancaster on Saturday. Gumbert said the youth also is accused of stealing purses from two homes in Pottstown, one of them on York street and the other on Spruce street.

The youth has been turned over to the juvenile court authorities in Lancaster county. Gumbert said he will later be released to the police authorities here.

The youth told Lancaster police he also stole pocketbooks from homes in Norristown, Allentown and Reading. He said he was arrested only once before, in Trenton, N. J., where he was accused of being a Peeping Tom.

BOMBAY RIOTS —

varied as to which community had made the attack.

One hospital reported it had received seven persons suffering from stab wounds, one of whom died.

The rioting in Calcutta brought the cinema toll there, where Hindu-Muslim clashes have been continuous since last Wednesday, to more than 50 persons killed and over 400 wounded in less than a week.

Five persons were killed yesterday in Calcutta proper, some by police fire, and 42 others were wounded, a government communiqué said, while communal disorders in Howrah, across the Hooghly, spread to three police districts, causing three deaths and injuries to 52. The military moved into Howrah, quelling 29 incidents and arresting 70 persons.

In Calcutta, one man was killed and an unspecified number of others were wounded in fighting which started when Muslims objected to anti-Pakistan placards displayed at a Punjab celebration. Some senior civil officials were injured by stone throwing. A curfew was imposed and troops patrolled the streets.

Fighting broke out in Bombay almost as if by signal wherever the Hindu and Muslim districts converged and in many other sections of mixed population. But fighting started in the Null bazaar, where police fired on the rioters.

Flames reddened the Bombay sky after a mob fired a cotton mill, but the blaze soon was extinguished. Police said many of the casualties occurred in fierce gang fights marked by knifings and the hurling of soda water bottles.

Former Congressman
Passes in Red Lion

YORK, March 29 (P)—Harry L. Haines, live-wire Democratic congressman from the 21st congressional district died at his home in nearby Red Lion last night. He was 67.

Haines represented the York-Franklin-Adams county congressional district from 1931 through 1938 and from 1941 to 1942.

One of his last acts was to strike off a bill called back and that no new one be issued as long as the Government operates the soft coal mines.

Lewis told reporters yesterday, in announcing the shutdown for miners to "meditate, pray and resolve for a safer and more secure future," that it did not violate the injunction. Lewis said a contract provision allows the union to observe such memorials.

One Federal official said that Government action against Lewis now would be "unproductive" as "we have no desire to engage with Mr. Lewis in what might be construed as a brawl over the Centra disaster which we think was just as horrible as Mr. Lewis does."

Services of Holy Communion will be held on Maundy Thursday at Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church.

Dinner in Smith Home Marks Two Occasions

A dinner party given yesterday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, 1214 South street, marked two events.

They were the birthday anniversaries of the couple's daughter, Joanne, aged seven, and her aunt, Mrs. Robert Rehner, Norristown.

A large bouquet of mixed flowers centered the table which was decorated attractively in a yellow and pale pink color scheme.

After the guests of honor were presented with lovely gifts, games were played.

Twenty-two guests attended from Norristown, Philadelphia, Royersford, Cornwells Heights, and Pottstown.

Formosans agreed that the government's monopoly system in various businesses, particularly tobacco, had touched off what the Chinese central news agency — an official government organ — said was open and widespread rebellion.

Powell added the disorders culminated a year and a half of flagrant Chinese misrule which he said had squeezed and oppressed the Formosans far worse than when they were ruled by the Japanese.

China lost Formosa in 1895; it was restored to her in 1945 after the Japanese surrender.

Powell's article, entitled "Blood Bath in Taiwan," said the administration of Governor Chen Yi had coupled trickery with a reign of terror which he said was probably unequalled in the history of Kuomintang China and thus had virtually suppressed the rebellion.

Powell wrote that the riots were preceded by extremely severe searches of shops and peddlers stands by police who, he said, were trying to enforce new economic regulations which virtually abolished private trade. These regulations, he said, directly violated central government laws in China proper.

The proverbial last straw came Feb. 27, he declared, when police killed a 40-year-old woman in Taipei (Taihoku), the capital, when she protested seizure of her cigarette tray. He said a man died from a shot fired by another policeman into the crowd of onlookers.

Next day the riots began, he continued, and a mob marched toward Chen Yi's office to petition for compensation of survivors and punishment of the policemen. He said police fired into this crowd and killed four Formosans, wounding several others.

Meanwhile, his account went on, another mob beat two policemen to death, sacked a tobacco monopoly building and burned all its goods. He said that other mobs roamed the streets, grabbing and beating all mainland Chinese they could find and sacking many Chinese homes.

SPICER FOREMEN MEET Routine business was discussed yesterday morning when 40 members of Spicer chapter 75, Foremen's Association of America, met in the Veterans of Foreign Wars home to talk with Plant Manager George Parker, Lester L. Sister Identifies Slain Girl's Body

WASHINGTON, March 30 (P)—Deputy Coroner Howard Pettit said today a young auburn-haired girl found slain along a rural road was identified as Lois Hope, 16, of Canonsburg.

Identification was made by a sister, Laura, 20, after she had viewed the girl's battered body at a funeral home.

Pettit said the slain girl, youngest of eight children, had left home Thursday to spend the night with a girl friend.

Police immediately began a check of the girl's movements from the time she left home until her scantily-clad body was found dumped over a bank on a road near here yesterday. An autopsy showed the cause of death was a blow on the head just above the eye.

The girl's clothing was torn and her face bruised, but she had not been criminally assaulted.

Iran, Iraq, Arabia and other nations would have to bow to Communist demands, throwing the Middle East wide open to Russia.

The ambassador added that Turkey now is solvent, but cannot remain so if it is forced to foot the bill alone for maintaining a large standing army which drains not only its finances but its manpower.

Some $150,000,000 of the $400,000,000 fund asked by Mr. Truman would go to Turkey, all for military purposes.

Wilson was quoted as testifying that the Russians have made it necessary for the Turks to maintain a large force by keeping their troops on the Turkish border but have not directly molested Turkey. The Soviets also seek a share in control of the Dardanelles.

Senators said the ambassador repudiated Turkey, unlike Greece, has few Communists within her borders and is not facing any internal upheaval unless the government should become too weak financially.

Lincoln MacVeagh, U.S. ambassador to Greece, was said to have told committee members in the same session that the Communists are even stronger within Greece than he had been supposed from reports reaching this country.

There King George's government is battling armed Communist guerrillas reputedly trained and equipped outside the country. MacVeagh's testimony also is expected to be made public later by the committee.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) seeks to cut Turkey off without any funds and to limit aid to Greece to the furnishing of relief money. But Senator Hatch (D-N.M.) plans to take the lead in opposing Johnson's amendment when it comes before the foreign relations committee this week.

While rescue workers, and mine officials were catching a short rest following the worst disaster of its kind in the nation since 195 perished in a similar tragedy in Mather, Pa., May 19, 1928 a series of investigations was being started.

Governor Dwight H. Green of Illinois has ordered the closing of all mines in the state found to be "operating in violation of safety regulations."

He ordered Robert H. Medill, head of the State department of mines and minerals, to conduct an immediate survey of all coal mines in Illinois to determine whether any of them are violating safety regulations prescribed by State and Federal laws.

Youth Held in Lancaster For Home Burglaries

A 16-year-old Pottstown youth, arrested in Lancaster Friday, told city detectives there that he had "robbed" so many houses in the past 18 months that he had lost count.

He was apprehended in a Lancaster apartment house which he was reported to have ransacked.

Patrolman Paul Gumpert, of the Pottstown police department, was in Lancaster on Saturday. Gumpert said the youth also is accused of stealing purses from two homes in Pottstown, one of them on York street and the other on Spruce street.

The youth has been turned over to the juvenile court authorities in Lancaster county. Gumpert said he will later be released to the police authorities here.

The youth told Lancaster police he also stole pocketbooks from homes in Norristown, Allentown and Reading. He said he was arrested only once before, in Trenton, N. J., where he was accused of being a Peeping Tom.

BOMBAY RIOTS —

varied as to which community had made the attack.

One hospital reported it had received seven persons suffering from stab wounds, one of whom died.

The rioting in Calcutta brought the death toll there, where Hindu-Muslim clashes have been continuous since last Wednesday, to more than 50 persons killed and over 400 wounded in less than a week.

Five persons were killed yesterday in Calcutta proper, some by police fire, and 42 others were wounded, a government communique said, while communal disorders in Howrah, across the Hooghly, spread to three police districts, causing three deaths and injuries to 52. The military moved into Howrah, quelling 30 incidents and arresting 80 persons.

In Cawnpore, one man was killed and an unspecified number of others were wounded in fighting which started when Moslems objected to anti-Pakistan placards displayed at a Punjab celebration. Some senior civil officials were injured by stone throwing. A curfew was imposed and troops patrolled the streets.

Fighting broke out in Bombay almost as if by signal wherever the Hindu and Moslem districts converged and in many other sections of mixed population. Flat fighting started in the Null bazaar, where police fired on the rioters.

Flames reddened the Bombay sky after a mob fired a cotton mill, but the blaze soon was extinguished. Police said many of the casualties occurred in fierce gang fights marked by knifings and the hurling of soda water bottles.

Stowe Youth Arrested Following Street Fight

Charged with disorderly conduct, John Razmyslow, 20, Stowe, was arrested on South Hanover street between High and Queen streets at 9:10 o'clock last night by Patrolmen George Wayock and Stanley Borowy.

He is scheduled for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward.

The youth is alleged to have engaged in a street fight and to have resisted the police officers.

BOYERTOWN

Easter Egg Hunt Planned Saturday On Athletic Field

Boyletown's first annual Easter egg hunt — for children "0 to 10 years old" inclusive — is slated Saturday at 2 p. m. on Boyletown High school athletic field, according to LaMar Smith, chairman of the boys and girls committee of the Lions club, sponsoring agency.

Rain date for the affair will be Easter Sunday at 2 p. m., according to Smith. He said that the event will be held Sunday — should it be postponed from Saturday — rain or shine.

To enter the hunt, children need only be present Saturday afternoon. There will be three age groups: from 0 to 3 years; 4, 5 and 6 years; and 7, 8, 9 and 10 years. Prizes will be awarded in each group, Smith said.

Parents are urged to come with their children. Those interested in seeing the event are invited. Smith emphasized that running of the event in future years will be determined by the success of this year's hunt.

Members of the sponsoring committee, in addition to Smith, are Edwin Eisenhart, Richard Frecon, Henry Steier, Henry Fulmer, Howard M. Reibert and Daniel B. Landis.

Sunday School Group Offers Easter Exercises

Members of the Main department of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school presented their annual Easter program last night at 7:30 o'clock.

In addition to an Easter message by the Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor, Marguerite Leister read the Scripture lesson. Sandra Toms gave a reading, "Easter Wish," and Eugene Johnson and Henry Johnson presented a cornet duet, "The Palm."

Participating in "Symbols of Easter," an exercise, were Martha Rothenberger, Carol Ann Swenhardt, Suzanne Kohler, and Marlene Mensch. June Rose and Nancy Bause rendered a piano duet.

"The Easter Story," an exercise, was presented by Mary Jane Mercer, Mary Louise March, accompanied by Jean Kohler and Patsy Frey, soloist. The Junior choir sang the anthem, "Beautiful Words of Jesus," and Doris Heros read "Easter Morn."

Lack of Equipment Delays New Exchange

Further delays in arrival of equipment to be installed in Conesoga Telephone and Telegraph company's new exchange now being built at the corner of Second and Warwick streets may postpone its opening until the early part of 1948, and as a result dial phone service will not start in Boyletown and vicinity until that time.

This was revealed by John K. Stolzrus, vice president and general manager of the company, who stated that this is the second delay in securing vital equipment.

Meanwhile, employees are changing telephones in homes and places of business in the area from the present "common-battery" type sets over to the new dial phones.

Stolzrus and his staff are making a preliminary survey of both Reading and Philadelphia avenues as the first step in the eventual placement of all telephone cables underground.

Parking Violators Given Red Tickets

One-hour parking in Boyletown celebrates its first week of existence today and in that time an even dozen motorists have been given red tickets by local police and later reprimanded by Burgess James A. Fritz.

C. R. Rader, 46 South Reading avenue, was one of the unlucky 12 but Rader wouldn't settle for less than payment of the $1 fine. Burgess Fritz tried to talk him out of paying it but Rader was insistent and thus became the first Boyletown citizen to pay a fine for overtime parking on Boyletown streets.

Beginning today, all violators will pay the fine, according to local officials.

Policemen to Wear New Uniforms Today

The Easter parade has hit the Boyletown police force.

Regular policemen will appear today in brand-new uniforms. They are grey with matching black overcoats and are similar in color and type of material to those worn by state highway patrolmen.

Chief of Police Arthur B. Heere and Patrolmen Henry E. Groff and Nathan S. Fegley will sport their new uniforms today but special police will not get theirs until a later date.

Presentation of a Bible to Douglas Township school, Gilbertsville, will be made this morning at 11 o'clock by Washington camp No. 104, Patriotic Order Sons of America. Lawrence M. Miller, district 4 president, will conduct the ceremony.

Miller announced that any members who wish to accompany the committee should meet at the lodge hall at 10:30 a. m. today.

schooner was being towed to Haifa by a minesweeper.

The Moledeh, built in 1876, has normal passenger accommodations for 30 persons. When British sailors came alongside to aid her they found 150 persons jammed into the ship.

Engineers from a British destroyer boarded the Moledeh with pumps and removed a considerable amount of water which the schooner had been taking rapidly.

In downtown Haifa areas British troops, in an operation that is becoming routine, moved barbed wire barriers and guns into place. Troops of the Sixth airborne division, equipped with pick handles, were alerted to begin transferring the refugees to waiting transports for Cyprus when the Moledeh and the British naval vessels arrived.

The rescue of the uncertified immigrants followed a renewed Jewish agency denunciation of terrorism in Palestine and an announcement that Mayor Israel Rokach of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv had started legal action to challenge the whole structure of the British mandate government's law in the Holy Land.

The new Jewish agency statement against terrorism followed the death of a British police inspector from wounds received when he was ambushed near the Ramle military camp yesterday. A British army officer also was killed in the attack, which authorities blamed on Jewish terrorists.

Mrs. Goldie Myerson, head of the Jerusalem branch of the agency's political department, told a Tel Aviv public meeting:

"Terrorism assists the government and places the Jewish community on the defensive when it should be on the offensive."

She urged Palestinian Jews to prevent a minority of dissidents from breaking Jewish unity by employing terrorism against the British.

Rokach, acting as a leader of the Jewish community rather than as mayor of Tel Aviv, is using the appeal of the death sentence imposed upon Dov Bela Gruner as the basis of his court action charging that emergency defense regulations under which Gruner was prosecuted violate the Palestine mandate.

Gruner, sentenced to hang for aiding an attack on the police station at Ramat Gan a year ago, was a resident of Tel Aviv.

The Jewish underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi, issued a communique at Tel Aviv last night admitting that its members had blown up a well in the Jewish settlement of Kiryat Haim Saturday, but said it was the result of "an error in our battle plans."

The destruction of the well in the village north of Haifa stirred a storm in the Jewish community. The Tel Aviv labor newspaper Davar termed it an act of dissident Jews as "collective punishment" of the suburb.

could be replaced with new hydrants now stored in the borough hall, Lindauer said, but added that the water company refused to turn off the water for installation, pleading lack of labor for the job.

Many old plugs require adapters before modern fire equipment can attach to them, using time when it cannot be spared.

The fire chief said that, when the borough takes over the water company, he hoped the situation would be rectified in short order.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears said last night that the borough would make a survey of the mains and the fire hydrants when it took over the utility and then correct conditions where needed.

He said there probably were 50 to 75 hydrants which should be replaced and many sections of water main that needed to be dug up and supplanted by new and larger pipe. Sears said the while project might take several years and would have to be included in the budget like any other expense.

Technician Blamed For Program Change

MUNICH, Germany, March 30 (AP)—Edward Kerrigan, manager of the United States radio relay station here, said today he believed some technician employed at the station was responsible for the "sabotaging" of recent "Voice of America" broadcasts to Russia.

Kerrigan said the broadcasts had gone astray "on several occasions" because the unidentified saboteur had directed the beams toward countries other than Russia. He declined to say on what occasions the broadcasts had been misdirected.

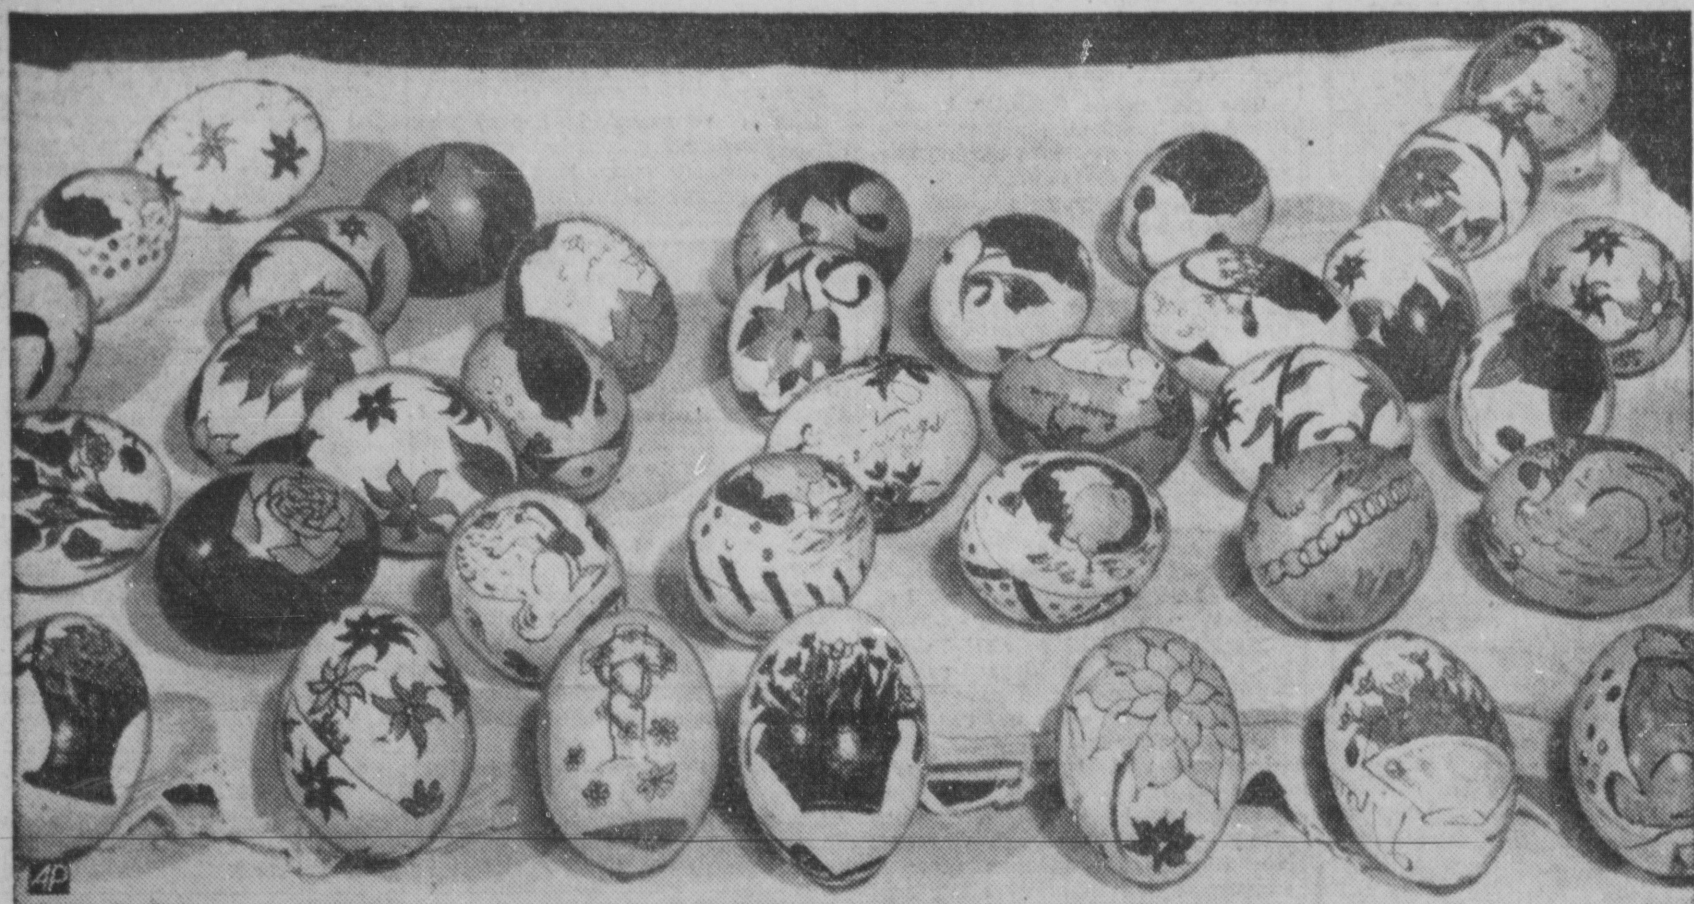

Reading Man Nabbed Following Holdup

PHILADELPHIA, March 30 (AP)—Pedestrians captured a man fleeing a store today after he had slugged the proprietor, John Kalain, in a holdup attempt, police reported.

Police said the man identified himself as S. Williams, 27, Reading. Williams was quoted as saying he arrived here Friday night seeking a job and house for his family.

schooner was being towed to Haifa by a minesweeper.

The Moledeth, built in 1876, has normal passenger accommodations for 30 persons. When British sailors came alongside to aid her they found 1530 persons jammed into the ship.

Engineers from a British destroyer boarded the Moledeth with pumps and removed a considerable amount of water which the schooner had been taking rapidly.

In downtown Haifa areas British troops, in an operation that is becoming routine, moved barbed wire barriers and guns into place. Troops of the Sixth airborne division, equipped with pick handles, were alerted to begin transferring the refugees to waiting transports for Cyprus when the Moledeth and the British naval vessels arrived.

The rescue of the unidentified immigrants followed a renewed Jewish agency denunciation of terrorism in Palestine and an announcement that Mayor Israel Rokach of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv had started legal action to challenge the whole structure of the British mandate government's law in the Holy Land.

The new Jewish agency statement against terrorism followed the death of a British police inspector from wounds received when he was ambushed near the Ramle military camp yesterday. A British army officer also was killed in the attack, which authorities blamed on Jewish terrorists.

Mrs. Goldie Myerson, head of the Jerusalem branch of the agency's political department, told a Tel Aviv public meeting:

"Terrorism assists the government and places the Jewish community on the defensive when it should be on the offensive."

She urged Palestinian Jews to prevent a minority of dissidents from breaking Jewish unity by employing terrorism against the British.

Rokach, acting as a leader of the Jewish community rather than as mayor of Tel Aviv, is using the appeal of the death sentence imposed upon Dov Ben Gruner as the basis of his court action charging that emergency defense regulations under which Gruner was prosecuted violate the Palestine mandate.

Gruner, sentenced to hang for aiding an attack on the police station at Ramat Gan a year ago, was a resident of Tel Aviv.

The Jewish underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi, issued a communique at Tel Aviv last night admitting that its members had blown up a well in the Jewish settlement of Kiryat Haim Saturday, but said it was the result of "an error in our battle plans."

The destruction of the well in the village north of Haifa had stirred a storm in the Jewish community. The Tel Aviv labor newspaper Davar termed it an act of dissident Jews as "collective punishment" of the suburb.

could be replaced with new hydrants now stored in the borough hall, Lindauer said, but added that the water company refused to turn off the water for installation, pleading lack of labor for the job.

Many old plugs require adapters before modern fire equipment can attach to them, using time when it cannot be spared.

The fire chief said that, when the borough takes over the water company, he hoped the situation would be rectified in short order.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears said last night that the borough would make a survey of the mains and the fire hydrants when it took over the utility and then correct conditions where needed.

He said there probably were 50 to 75 hydrants which should be replaced and many sections of water main that needed to be dug up and supplanted by new and larger pipe.

Sears said the whole project might take several years and would have to be included in the budget like any other expense.

Technician Blamed For Program Change

MUNICH, Germany, March 30 (AP)—Edward Kerrigan, manager of the United States radio relay station here, said today he believed some technician employed at the station was responsible for the "sabotaging" of recent "Voice of America" broadcasts to Russia.

Kerrigan said the broadcasts had gone astray "on several occasions" because the unidentified saboteur had directed the beams toward countries other than Russia. He declined to say on what occasions the broadcasts had been misdirected.

Reading Man Nabbed Following Holdup

PHILADELPHIA, March 30 (AP)—Pedestrians captured a man fleeing a Vine street store today after he had slugged the proprietor, John Kalalin, in a holdup attempt, police reported.

Police said the man identified himself as S. Williams, 27, Reading. Williams was quoted as saying he arrived here Friday night seeking a job and house for his family.

Allentown High school's basketball team equalled the state record when it chalked up its third straight state championship Saturday night with a 46-45 victory over Duquesne at the Penn. Palestra. During the regular season, Coach Ed Good's Pottstown High Trojans extended the Canaries before losing, 65-54. The players are, left to right: standing, Montz, Casium, Witt, Jackson, Casarotti, and Wanish; kneeling, Clymer, Schwartz, Weiss, Schmidt, Levan and Feduck.

THIS & THAT BY BOB RIEGNER

If the weather continues to be warm, hundreds of local would-be Ben Hogans will be sounding the old familiar "Fore" on the fairways around this area.

Yes, golf is beginning to make its entrance and those rabid fans who have been knocking balls around the house, practicing putting in the living room and swinging the clubs always in the general direction of the wife's best china, can get out into the wide open spaces where there is nothing to hit but the ball.

A man will walk seven miles while playing 18 holes but if the missus asks him to walk to the corner store, he raises the roof and claims he can't put one foot in front of the other.

Give a man a golf club, especially a duffer like yourself, and put him in the back yard in no time at all, you will have your garden dug up and you can go about your spring plantings.

A golfer will carry a bag weighing approximately 20 to 30 pounds around a golf course for almost three hours but let him be asked to lift a small table and you'd think he was so weak he couldn't lift his finger.

If a golfer comes home after shooting somewhere in the low seventies, his wife could probably get anything she asked for but if his game had been slightly off, say 120 or so, don't breath too loudly while he is in the house, please.

And then there is always the club swinger who will tell you about that 20 foot putt he made on the ninth hole about getting a par on a 500 yard hole. Funny part about golf is that the golfer won't always be telling you about that three footer he missed or the hole on which he went seven over par.

It's the season of balls being driven down your back just when you are getting ready for a shot, of rough language when that putt just rolls around the edge of the cup and then decides not to go in, and of the rehashing of the in-the-hole while sitting in the clubhouse enjoying a bite to eat.

All in all, golf is definitely on its way up in the world of sports. Of course there are few Ben Hogans, but we who hit 'em around 100 or 110 are still having a lot of fun and as long as the ball sits on the ground, we'll be swinging at it.

Allentown High Nips Duquesne For 3rd Straight State Title; Wanish and Jackson Are Stars

PHILADELPHIA, March 30 (AP)—Allentown High's high flying Canaries stand today as undisputed scholastic basketball champions of Pennsylvania, a title they have held for three successive years.

Before a jam-packed crowd of 2,000 highly partisan fans at the University of Pennsylvania's Palestra last night, the progress of Coach J. Birney Crum turned aside a gallant challenge by Duquesne High, 46-42, to equal the record for consecutive Class A championships.

Lower Merion ruled the scholastic world from 1941 to 1945 inclusive, giving up their crown to Duquesne in 1944. The following year Crum's Canaries moved to the front and are still the kings of the court following their latest nerve-tingling triumph.

In turning back Duquesne the Canaries set another record when they chalked up 46 points in a state final. Two previous marks were their own high of 45 last year against Homestead. The two teams put another record in the book when the combined points reached 88, again erasing last year's total of 77.

The victory for the Canaries was in the nature of a gala farewell appearance for two of Crum's stars, Captain Bill Wanish, and Elmo "Willie" Jackson. Both played their final scholastic basketball game and both wound up their careers in fine style.

For Jackson the game just about clinched a spot on the All-State

CATAWAUGA LOSES
NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Catawauga, Pa., High school was defeated in a preliminary basketball game to the East-West game in Madison Square Garden last night by Weehawken, N. J., High school which established a Garden scholastic scoring record in winning, 78 to 61.

The rest of the Allentown boys did yeoman work in keeping pace with the fast moving Dukes in the first half and eventually wearing out the invaders from the western part of the state. But in the long run it was Wanish and Jackson who combined to make 30 of the 46 points and assured Allentown of the victory.

Duquesne's Coach Bill Lemmer announced before the game that he would rely on five boys to carry the challenge against Allentown, and his strategy seemed to be excellent in the first half when the "Little Dukes" held the defending titleholders on even terms, 23-23.

Gil Dodds Captures Trophy By Winning Mile in 4:06.8

CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—They'll have to dig up a new trophy for the Bankers Mile which Gil Dodds, the bounding Bostonian, won for the third time as he missed his own American indoor record by only four-tenths of a second in the Chicago Relays Saturday night.

At that, the serious-faced galloper, who hands out autographs with a Biblical touch, streaked to the fastest indoor mile of the season, 4:06.8, as he thrilled a Chicago stadium crowd of 17,632.

Copping his 22nd straight mile triumph and his eighth straight this season, Dodds tried hard, but just not quite hard enough to reach the record 4:06.4 performance he uncorked in the Banker feature in 1944.

—accomplished only once before, by Lloyd Hahn of Boston, Gil's coach—Dodds retired the Melvin A. Taylor trophy.

The prancing parson beat Gerald Karver of Penn State by half a lap as he flitted the first quarter in 59 seconds, covered the half in 2:02, and reached the three-quarter mark in 3:13.

Dodds shared the relays spotlight with Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace, who swept the hurdle series with three American indoor record-matching performances. The ace Negro timber-topper covered the 40-yard high sticks in five seconds flat.

Greenberg Suffering From Stiff Right Arm

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Except for a stiffness in his right arm, Hank Greenberg is in the best physical shape he has been in the past six years and expects a good year with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The hard hitting outfielder can't account for the puzzling ailment. He can't even remember how he got it. All he knows is that he awoke one morning, about three or four days before he headed South to join the Pirates, feeling a sharp pain in his right elbow. The arm was almost doubled up and he couldn't straighten it out.

JACKIE ROBINSON MAY OPEN SEASON WITH THE DODGERS
Havana, March 30 (AP)—Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to break into modern organized baseball, may open the season at first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Still the property of the Montreal Farm club where he led the International league with a 349 average last year, Robinson remains a "No Communist" case among Dodger officials. Neither President Branch Rickey nor Manager Leo Durocher has anything to say for the records but there is an enthusiastic undercurrent of opinion in camp booming Jackie as the answer to the Brooks' first base problem.

Rickey is leaving the matter up to Durocher and Durocher is leaving it up to Robinson on a "Show me" basis. So far Robinson has been showing plenty. He has collected six hits in 11 at bats for .545 but presently he is bothered by a sudden attack of colitis which might upset all calculations.

An important Brooklyn scout lists him as "terrific" and says "He's at much at home on first as if he had been playing the bag all his life." Yet he has played first only 10 days.

Brooklyn has five other first basemen including Howie Schultz and Ed Stevens who split the job last season. John Douglas, up from St. Paul with a .307 average and Jack Piepke and Lou Ruchner from Fort Worth have been the competition. To date, none of the five has been setting the camp on fire.

TWELVE GAMES LISTED FOR GREENIE NINE

Six Veterans Back
From Last Year Make
Coach Roth All Smiles

Coach Charles Roth looks toward the coming Upper Merion Baseball league race with a bit of optimism. Roth has a pitcher and a catcher from last year back on the squad and also last year's entire infield.

All the East Greenfield High school mentor has to do is to find another pitcher or two and three flycatchers and he can present a formidable opponent for the Upper Merion loop rivals during the 1947 diamond season.

Elmer Heinz is the Greenfield center back from last year while Doc Treisinger will again be his battery mate. Bob Cope holds down the first base job while the keystone combination of Dallas Graber and Dick Kline keep the Greenies well fortified around second base. Dick Downing is the third baseman held over from the past year's squad.

The Greenies open the season April 2 against Boyertown High's Braves at Boyertown.

Schedule:
April 2—Boyertown, away.
April 11—Boyertown, home.

YANKS TOP PHILS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Bud Chandler, ace of the Yankee mound staff, turned in his most impressive performance of the exhibition season today, hurling three-hit ball for seven innings as the New Yorkers defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-0, before 2130 at Lans field.

The Phillies made two of their three hits in the second frame, but one of three double plays reeled off by the Yankee infield snuffed out the rally. Spud faced only 22 men, walked none and permitted only two balls to be hit to the outfield. Joe Page finished up holding the Phillies hitless and runless in the last two frames.

Charley Keller's double tallied the first Yankee run in the first inning and three hits, one a triple by Frank Crosetti, added the final pair in the eighth.

In turning back Duquesne the Canaries set another record when they chalked up 46 points in a state final. The previous mark was their own high of 45 last year against Homestead. The two teams put another record in the book when the combined points reached 88, again erasing last year's total of 77.

The victory for the Canaries was in the nature of a gala farewell appearance for two of Crum's stars, Captain Bill Wanish, and Elmo "Willie" Jackson. Both played their final scholastic basketball game and both wound up their careers in fine style.

For Jackson the game just about clinched a spot on the All-State

basketball team, with his 20 points turning the tide and bringing the coveted state championship to his team-mates. During the entire game Jackson was the boy who made the points when they counted most, and several of his tap-in shots under the basket took a lot of fight out of the "Little Lukes."

Wanish was just as calm, just as effective, and just as essential to Allentown's success as in all previous games, and the big center, who can have a scholarship at almost any college in the land, closed out his high school career with one of his best games.

The rest of the Allentown boys did yeoman work in keeping pace with the fast moving Ducks in the first half and eventually wearing out the invaders from the western part of the state. But in the long run it was Wanish and Jackson who combined to make 30 of the 46 points and assured Allentown of the victory.

Duquesne's Coach Bill Lemmer announced before the game that he would rely on five boys to carry the challenge against Allentown, and his strategy seemed to be excellent in the first half when the "Little Lukes" held the defending titleholders on even terms, 23-23.

Gil Dodds Captures Trophy By Winning Mile in 4:06.8

CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)

They'll have to dig up a new trophy for the Bankers Mile which Gil Dodds, the bounding Bostonian, won for the third time as he missed his own American indoor record by only four-tenths of a second in the Chicago Relays Saturday night.

At that, the serious-faced galloper, who hands out autographs with a Biblical touch, streaked to the fastest indoor mile of the season, 4:06.8, as he thrilled a Chicago stadium crowd of 17,632.

Copping his 22nd straight mile triumph and his eighth straight this season, Dodds tried hard, but just not quite hard enough to reach the record 4:06.4 performance he uncorked in the Banker feature in 1944.

In winning the race three times—accomplished only once before, by Lloyd Hahn of Boston, Gil's coach—Dodds retired the Melvin A. Traylor trophy.

The prancing parson beat Gerald Karver of Penn State by half a lap as he flitted the first quarter in 59 seconds, covered the half in 2:02, and reached the three-quarter mark in 3:05.

Dodds shared the relays spotlight with Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace, who swept the hurdle series with three American indoor record-matching performances. The ace Negro timber-topper covered the 40-yard high sticks in five seconds flat.

Greenberg Suffering From Stiff Right Arm

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 30 (P)—Except for a stiffness in his right arm, Hank Greenberg is in the best physical shape he has been in the past six years and expects a good year with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The hard hitting outfielder can't account for the puzzling ailment. He can't even remember how he got it. All he knows is that he awoke one morning, about three or four days before he headed South to join the Pirates, feeling a sharp pain in his right elbow. The arm was almost doubled up and he couldn't straighten it out.

MONTGOMERY MEETS FLORES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (P)—Bob Montgomery, recognized in New York and his native Philadelphia as World's Lightweight champion, will hook up with youthful Jesse Flores of Stockton, Calif., in a 10-round fight here tomorrow night.

HARRISBURG WINS

READING, March 30 (P)—Harrisburg won the Eastern Pennsylvania YMCA Volleyball Championship last night, defeating Wilkes-Barre by identical 15-10 scores in the final round.

JACKIE ROBINSON MAY OPEN SEASON WITH THE DODGERS

HAVANA, March 30 (AP)

Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to break into modern organized baseball, may open the season at first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Still the property of the Montreal Farm club where he led the International league with a .349 average last year, Robinson remains a "No Comment" case among Dodger officials. Neither President Branch Rickey nor Manager Leo Durocher has anything to say for the records but there is an enthusiastic endorsement of opinion in camp booming Jackie as the answer to the Brooks' first base problem.

Rickey is leaving the matter up to Durocher and Durocher is leaving it up to Robinson on a "Show me" basis. So far Robinson has been showing plenty. He has collected six hits in 11 at bats for .545 but presently he is bothered by a sudden attack of colitis which might upset all calculations.

An important Brooklyn scout lists him as "terrific" and says "He's at much at home on first as if he had been playing the bag all his life." Yet he has played first only 10 days.

Brooklyn has five other first basemen including Howie Schultz and Ed Stevens who split the job last season. John Douglas, up from St. Paul with a .307 average and Jack Paepke and Lou Ruchser from Fort Worth have been the competition. To date, none of the five has been setting the camp on fire.

It's Up to Durocher

Leo Durocher, left, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, talks with Jackie Robinson, Montreal Royals' first baseman before a game between the two clubs. Dodger President Branch Rickey has given Durocher the go ahead on the question of whether or not Robinson will be with the Dodgers. Durocher has put it up to Robinson on a "show me" basis and the Negro star has been showing plenty.

Thaw Wills $40,000 To Ex-Beauty Queen

PHILADELPHIA, March 30 (AP)—Ethel May Moody, a one-time Philadelphia beauty queen who was killed a $40,000 trust by the late millionaire playboy, Harry K. Thaw, says "I can't imagine why he left me the money."

The blonde Miss Moody, crowned "Miss Philadelphia, 1929," said she met Thaw but once in her life—in 1928 at a dinner party at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

Thaw's will left her the largest single monetary bequest. Evelyn Nesbit, ex-wife of Thaw for whom he shot and killed Stanford White, was left $10,000.

Hoess Takes Full Blame For Camp Gas Deaths

WARSAW, March 30 (AP)—Rudolf Hoess, former Nazi commandant at the Oswiecim concentration camp, today admitted before the supreme national tribunal full responsibility for putting over 4,000,000 prisoners to death in gas chambers.

"As commandant I was responsible for all that happened in Oswiecim and carried out the orders of my superiors," Hoess said.

Camden House Fire Wipes Out Eight; Six Flee Flames

CAMDEN, N. J., March 30 (AP)—A mother, six of her 14 children, and a grandson were burned to death early today in a fire that swept their home and damaged four adjoining residences.

Six other members of the family of Andrew Johnson escaped from the burning house. Three children were taken from home at the time.

The dead were identified at Cooper hospital as: Mrs. Gladys Johnson, 49, two sons, Lawrence, 10, and Howard, 9, four daughters, Mary, three months old; Pauline, 5 years; Catherine, 7; Susan, 18; and the grandson, Frederick, two months. All were Negroes.

Occupants of the two homes on either side were forced to flee as the fast-spreading flames raged through the Johnson house shortly before 5 a. m.

Camden Fire Chief Walter Merz said he learned that James Johnson, 15, had gone to a shed adjoining the rear of the home to light the five kerosene burners of a bake oven and shouted an alarm to other members of the family when he saw flames following the feed line to the fuel storage tank.

Mrs. Johnson, 11, and Emma, 17, jumped through windows to the street and another daughter, Anna, 20, carried her 6-year-old sister, Joan, down the stairs to safety. Some neighbors said they believed Mrs. Johnson had reached the street safely, then returned to the house in an effort to aid the children.

Merz said the first knowledge of the fire came from a fire alarm when firemen fighting the blaze through second floor windows saw flames inside.

Traffic Delay Predicted In Philadelphia District

PHILADELPHIA, March 30 (AP)—Traffic from a large section of the busy downtown Philadelphia district center may be forced to divert for considerably longer than a week because of damage to the Perseus ferry bridge yesterday when a 10,000-ton tanker crashed into it, a city official said today.

The crane across the Schuylkill river carries the main highway to south-west airport and many industrial establishments.

The tanker, S. S. Canyagan, being docked by tugs yesterday, broke loose and crashed into the span, damaging several girders.

Hoess Takes Full Blame For Camp Gas Deaths

WARSAW, March 30 (AP)—Rudolf Hoess, former Nazi commandant at the Oswiecim concentration camp, today admitted before the supreme national tribunal full responsibility for putting over 4,000,000 prisoners to death in gas chambers.

"As commandant I was responsible for all that happened in Oswiecim and carried out the orders of my superiors," Hoess said.

Camden House Fire Wipes Out Eight; Six Flee Flames

CAMDEN, N. J., March 30 (AP)—A mother, six of her 14 children, and a grandson were burned to death early today in a fire that swept their home and damaged four adjoining residences.

Six other members of the family of Andrew Johnson escaped from the burning house. Three children were absent from home at the time.

The dead were identified at Cooper hospital as: Mrs. Gladys Johnson, 40; two sons, Lawrence, 10 and Howard, 9; four daughters, Mary, three months old; Pauline, 5 years; Catherine, 7; Susan, 18; and the grandson, Frederick, two months. All were Negroes.

Occupants of the two homes on either side were forced to flee as the fast-spreading flames raged through the Johnson house shortly before 5 a. m.

Deputy Fire Chief Walter Mertz said he learned that James Johnson, 15, had gone to a shed adjoining the rear of the home to light the five kerosene burners of a bake oven and shouted an alarm to other members of the family when he saw flames following the feed line to the fuel storage tank.

Marie Johnson, 11, and Emma, 17, jumped through windows to the street and another daughter, Anna, 20, carried her 6-year-old sister, Joan, down the stairs to safety. Some neighbors said they believed Mrs. Johnson had reached the street safely, then returned to the house in an effort to aid the children.

Mertz said the first knowledge firemen had of casualties came when firemen fighting the blaze through second floor windows saw bodies inside.
